Vishinsky Berates Canada

Says Dominion Waged Campaign Against Soviet

PARIS (CP)—Andre Vishinsky, chief Russian delegate, today told the United Nations Political Committee that Canada's attitude regarding Russia was to be expected.

Vishinsky was first speaker in the committee this afternoon as he replied to this morning's speech by Warren Austin, United States delegate, who challenged Russia to deny she recognized war as a means of achieving a Communist world society.

Referring to a speech in the committee Monday by Lionel Chevrier, Canadian delegate, Vishinsky said the Canadian claimed every thinking being knew that responsibility for the present international tension lay with the Soviet. Chevrier claimed the Soviet attempted to cause differences with various other states, the Russian delegate said.

CALLED 'UNBRIDLED'

"As a matter of fact we couldn't expect the Canadian representative to say anything else," Vishinsky declared, "in view of the Canadian contribution to the unbridled campaign of enmity and hatred against the U.S.S.R., in the course of which the Canadians did not shrink from resorting to provocateurs and traitors who should not have found any place in the company or society of decent human beings." This phrase obviously was a reference to the Dominion's espionage trials.

TENSION GROWS

In a room crowded to capacity and in a tense atmosphere, Vishinsky began quietly reading from a prepared text.

He said he was tempted to reply at once to the poison, insinuations and slanders of Austin's speech, but he regretted he would have first to take up the time of the political committee by replying in chronological order to the large number of other speakers who had attacked the Soviet proposals.

During his address Warren Austin said that "wreck and destroy" had become the Soviet battle cry in the world today. He cited a number of quotations which he said indicated the Soviet Union is guilty of duplicity.

Earlier it had been learned Britain, the United States and France today joined in a move to speed up Security Council action on the Berlin crisis.

This coincided with State Secretary Marshall's return by air from Washington talks with President Truman.

No Music For Reds Till Blockade Off

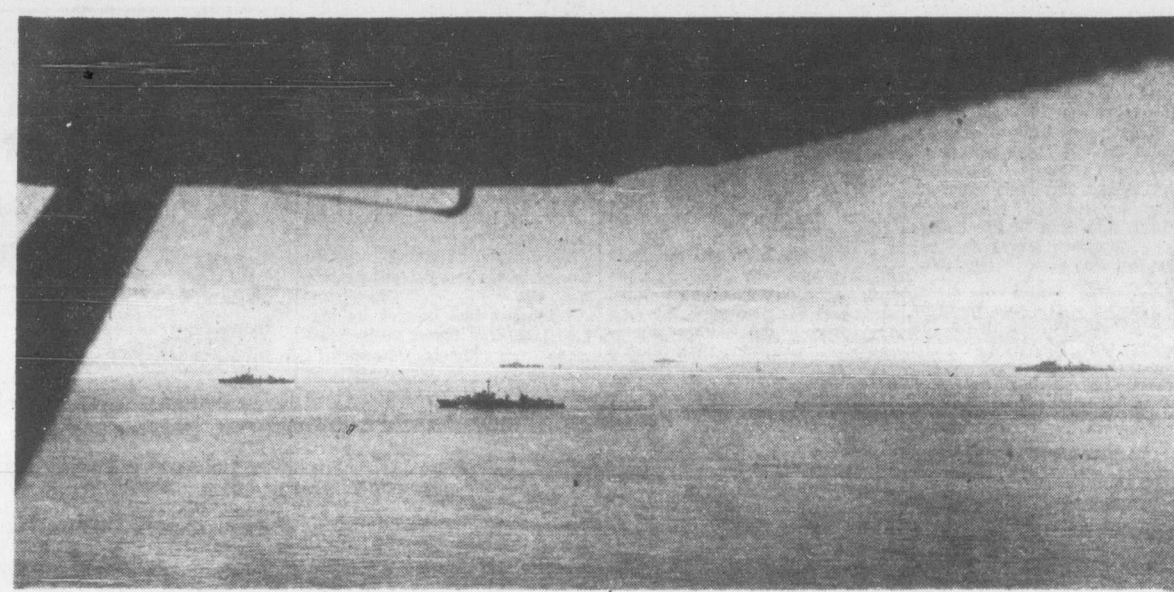

BERLIN (AP)—The Berlin Philharmonic has voted against playing under Communist auspices—at least until the Russians lift their Berlin blockade. The vote backs up a ban previously placed by the United States Military Government, under whose license the orchestra performs.

Russians To Keep Blockade Till West Cancels Currency

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians today declared through their official newspaper that the blockade of Berlin will remain until the western powers withdraw their currency from circulation in the city.

The Soviet Military Administration's newspaper, Taegische Rundschau, said this was a "prerequisite for the lifting of traffic restrictions." Apparently this reflected the official Soviet attitude on mediation efforts in Paris by six members of the United Nations' Security Council who are trying to end the east-west deadlock over Berlin.

Canada's Pacific Fleet At Full Strength For Cruise

For the first time, the full strength of Canada's Pacific fleet is seen at sea. In this exclusive picture, taken Monday by Times photographer Bill Halkett from a Westinghouse, the five ships are steaming in Juan de Fuca Strait headed for Pearl Harbor. In the lead is the destroyer Cayuga. Following are the destroyers Athabasca, D.S.C. and Bar, who commands the Canadian group. (See page 10 for other pictures and story.)

Empire Meet Disrupted As Premier King Sick

LONDON (CP)—The illness of Canada's Prime Minister King has resulted in a rearrangement of the timetable of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference, to which acting Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent will fly from Ottawa tomorrow.

The Canadian Prime Minister, ordered to bed Sunday with a condition of his blood circulation aggravated by a bout of influenza last month, was reported feeling "quite comfortable" this morning after a quiet night. Lord Moran, his physician, was to visit him again today.

BEVIN SPEAKS

At today's conference session Foreign Secretary Bevin reviewed the international situation for the Commonwealth leaders. Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, represented the Dominion.

Bevin said he rated the dangers of Communist pressure in the Orient even above the Berlin crisis.

The acting Prime Minister, who will succeed Mr. King on his retirement scheduled for later this year, decided Monday to fly to London to replace his chief at the conference. It was then decided to rearrange the timetable to postpone some discussions on international affairs until the acting Prime Minister arrives.

Curfew In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A midnight curfew for children under 17 will take effect at midnight tonight. If they're found unescorted on the streets after midnight, their parents will be fined $15 or 30 days.

Two-Headed Snake At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI—A two-headed garter snake has been caught by Nick Shan of Nainaimo Road, Alberni. The snake is well developed with both heads normal in every respect. The snake is still alive in captivity and the finder expresses the hope some museum or scientific organizations might be interested.

The snake was noticed in the grass by the roadside and John Fisher aided in the capture. It is about eight inches long with one head slightly larger than the other.

Work Started On $250,000 Lumber Mill At Esquimalt

An immediate start on construction of a $250,000 new-type lumber mill at the former No. 2 Yard of Yarrow's Ltd. was announced today by F. A. E. Manning, president of Manning Lumber Mills Ltd.

Negotiations for purchase of the buildings and land have been finally completed and approved and work started today on erection of the new mill which will be one of the largest in Victoria.

Mr. Manning said he proposes to start the mill with one shift of about 60 workmen and anticipates to have two shifts in operation with between 100 and 125 men employed within a year.

According to present plans for conversion of the yard, it will be possible in the case of national emergency to reconvert the yard to shipbuilding in a very short time.

TO AID SMALLER MILLS

The new mill is expected to be of great aid to smaller mills on the lower half of Vancouver Island who are now in difficulty because the dollar shortage prevents export of their products, principally railroad ties.

Two Prisoners Flee Oakalla Prison In Autumn's First Fog

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two prisoners escaped from the suburban Oakalla prison farm today under cover of the fall's first fog belt.

The men were missed when the dense fog prompted guards to make a check on work gangs in the prison yards.

They were identified as Roy Penner, 19, serving a year for car theft, and Ed. Rose, serving a year for retaining stolen goods. An extensive police search was launched throughout the lower mainland.

It could not be immediately ascertained how the pair got over the prison's high wire fence.

Congress Convention Hears Two Sides After Rail Clerks Admitted

Blows, Noise In Italian Chamber As Deputies Fight

ROME (Reuter)—The session of the Italian Chamber of Deputies was suspended this afternoon when Communist and Neo-Fascist deputies of the Italian Social Movement fought a pitched battle on the floor of the chamber.

Deputies, kicking, punching and yelling, struggled in the aisles of the chamber as the speaker—Christian Democrat Giovanni Gronchi—rang alarm bells to clear the halls.

The fight began when Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti, speaking in a debate on the Ministry of the Interior, referred to the north Italian province of Emilia, known as the "Triangle of Death" because of the number of people killed there after the war.

(Many agricultural workers have attempted to "squat" on farmland in the Emilia province, and police were called to some places earlier this year to keep order.)

Togliatti declared "it is a good thing these traitors to the Italian people were killed."

CRIES 'ASSASSINS'

At this leader of the Italian Social Movement Grogio Almirante shouted at the Communists "assassins."

A number of Communists immediately hurled themselves at Social Movement deputies, while other Communists formed a body-guard about Togliatti.

The session was resumed after half an hour.

Government Official Killed On Prairies In Hunting Mishap

Maj. J. C. MacDonald, one of the three members of the province's Public Utilities Commission, was killed in a hunting accident near The Pas, Manitoba, on Thanksgiving Day.

Confirmation of the death was received today by Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the commission, who said Maj. MacDonald was duck shooting with two brothers, one of them a twin brother, when the accident occurred.

It is understood Maj. MacDonald bobbed in front of one of his brothers who at the same time fired a shotgun blast at a flock of ducks going overhead. Death was almost instantaneous, it is reported.

Maj. MacDonald had gone to Edmonton to attend a conference, after which he and one of his brothers, an Edmonton man, traveled to Winnipeg to visit the third brother. He was to have returned to Victoria in a few days.

The major was 68 years of age. He was born in Truro, N.S., and came to British Columbia in 1909.

He was in a private engineering practice in Vancouver up until the outbreak of World War I, when he enlisted and went overseas. On his return in 1919 he was appointed superintendent of irrigation at Kelowna. He held that post until he came to Victoria on March 1, 1926, as comptroller of water rights and chairman of the water board for the provincial government.

He served as water comptroller until his appointment to the Public Utilities Commission on Jan. 31, 1939. Appointed to the commission at that time also was Lewis W. Patmore, K.C., a Prince Rupert lawyer. Dr. Carrothers' appointment as chairman had been announced earlier.

A full-dress debate is in progress at the Trades and Labor Congress convention here today on whether or not the congress executive shall be upheld in suspending the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

The question is a complex one involving union practices, communism and international union affiliation. Feelings are running high among the more than 800 delegates and it is difficult to judge at the moment how the vote, which will probably be held later today, may go, although a majority of observers claim the executive will be upheld.

Some go as far as to claim that the whole future of Canada's oldest and largest trade union group is involved in the dispute.

The executive suspended the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks after Frank Hall, its Canadian vice-president effected a merger of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union and the Seafarer's International Union of North America.

The C.L.S.U. is a rival of the Canadian Seamen's Union, chartered by the T.L.C., while the S.I.U. is an affiliate of the A.F.L.

The T.L.C. and A.F.L. are closely associated. Mr. Hall and delegates from his union were admitted to the convention today after being excluded Monday during the opening sessions. The questions came up for debate in a report of the officers' committee which recommended that the convention endorse the action of the executive in suspending Mr. Hall and the 12,000-member Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

T. G. McManus of Montreal, C.S.U. secretary-treasurer, said the convention could do nothing else but support the action taken by the executive. He said he was confident the convention could do nothing but condemn Mr. Hall.

"Mr. Hall attempted to put a respectable trade union label on a bunch of scabs," said Mr. McManus.

Communism Cannot Obscure Issue

Like the Canadian Steamship Lines Mr. Hall is trying to make this an issue of Communism he said, adding that Communism cannot be used to obscure the issue.

Leonard W. Brockington, chairman of a federally appointed Industrial Disputes Commission on the C.S.U. strike against the Great Lakes steamship companies, including Canadian Steamship Lines, had challenged the companies to produce evidence of Communist activity in the C.S.U., he said, claiming it had never been produced.

Mr. McManus said that J. A. "Pat" Sullivan, founder of the C.L.S.U. and former C.S.U. president, had tried to "sell the labor movement down the river."

In 1946, Mr. McManus said he himself had been offered $100,000 cash to sign a phony agreement.

"They said it wasn't a bribe but just a gift to McManus because he was a nice fellow."

"It's peculiar that just three months' after that, we find our former president making revelations about the trade union movement."

He was referring to Mr. Sullivan's resignation as C.S.U. president because, he charged, it was dominated by Communists.

Before Mr. McManus spoke the convention had endorsed the T.L.C. executive's support of the C.S.U. in its battle with the Great Lakes Shipping companies.

Archibald Johnston of Toronto, Canadian vice-president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union, was the first to speak in defence of Mr. Hall. He claimed that the congress, which at last year's convention had declared the S.I.U. a dual union, had violated its constitution and therefore was at fault. He contended that any A.F.L. affiliate had the right to affiliate with the T.L.C. and therefore the T.L.C. could not decree the S.I.U. a dual union in Canada.

The S.I.U. he noted, sent delegates to the Victoria District Trades and Labor Council and the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, both T.L.C. chartered groups, yet the T.L.C. had taken no action to correct this.

Claims Parley Proceeded Wrongly

Mr. Hall rose to speak amid boos and clapping. The T.L.C. convention had proceeded wrongly, he said, suggesting that instead of suspending the brotherhood it should have lodged a complaint with the brotherhood and let it dispose of him. Percy Bengough, president of the T.L.C., asked the convention to accord him full courtesy.

Mr. Hall said that his union had been forced to battle not only the companies but the C.S.U. as there had been difficulties in all late ports.

Fundamentally the question involved was communism, he continued, for it was impossible to separate communism and the C.S.U.

Mr. Hall claimed the A.F.L. unions had the right to affiliate. Like Mr. Johnston he claimed that the resolution passed by the last convention of the congress, declaring the S.I.U. a dual union, was out of order.

"We say this organization, the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, has committed no impropriety," he said.

He recalled that he had protested to Mr. Bengough of the indignities to which he and his organization were being subjected by the C.S.U.

E. W. Gardiner of Toronto, international representative of the International Jewelry Workers' Union, said he backed the executive fully on its stand.

Harry Davis, Montreal, president of the C.S.U., said:

"The crime of Brother Hall is a crime of strike breaking and the selling out of the entire labor movement. The actions of Frank Hall are the same as those of another labor renegade, Pat Sullivan."

Referring to Hall's address to the convention, Davis said Hall sounded to him "like the corporation lawyers of the Canadian Steamship Line."

Davis asked the convention to back the congress executive until such time as Mr. Hall apologizes for his actions.

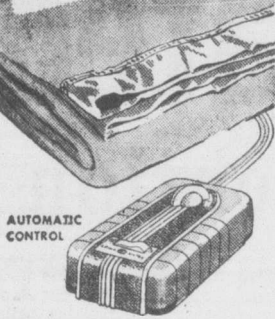

Race Track Worker At Toronto Slain; Another Arrested

TORONTO (CP)—Vincent Lawrence, 24-year-old Toronto race track groom charged with the bludgeoning slaying of George (Cowboy) Parker, 37-year-old Calgary stablehand, was remanded today until Oct. 20.

Peter Hylynsky, 28, a groundsman who operates the starting gates, was remanded to the same date on $3,000 bail as a material witness.

Parker was found late Saturday night lying in a pool of blood on the grounds of the Woodbine race track in east-end Toronto. He died in a hospital 12 hours later from a fracture of the skull and brain lacerations.

MRS. KASENKINA TELLS ALL Installment 14

Picked For Prized Job In United States

By
Oksana S. Kasenkina
(Edited by ISAAC DON LEVINE and Copyright, 1948, by King Features Syndicate Inc.)

THE DESTRUCTION of the centre of Slavyansk, with all the local Soviet records, made it possible for me to conceal from the authorities in Moscow the fact that my husband had been purged. And this one "great crime" of my life enabled me to get out of Soviet Russia and come to America.

For six months prior to my departure I was kept in a state of suspense while I was subjected to innumerable interrogations. As I was progressing from rung to rung on the inquisitorial ladder, I never knew when my very life would be forfeited if my lie were discovered. I made up my mind to state in all my declarations that I was a widow, and that my husband had died in 1927.

First I received a call to report to the Personnel Department of the Commissariat of Education. Here I was interviewed at length as to my personal qualifications and teaching experience. I was given a paper directing me to report to the Department of Personnel of the Commissariat of Foreign Affairs.

When I got there I found myself applying for a pass in front of a peephole, one of many little windows staring at me, before I was directed upstairs to Comrade Andreyenko, who later came to join our Soviet school in New York.

He hinted to me that I was being considered for an assignment to Paris, asked me many questions, and explained that I would have to deal with difficult children and parents. After convincing himself that I was not afraid of the responsibilities, he advised me to come back the following day to fill out a set of three questionnaires.

Suppressed Vital Fact

THESE three documents covered the widest range imaginable, and had to be accompanied by a full autobiographical sketch. When I got through filling out the papers, I made notes for myself of all the dates and key facts, so that I would not make a slip at the next stage. To be caught in a discrepancy would be fatal. I wrote in my autobiography, "My husband died in 1927."

In answer to the question, "Why do you want to go abroad?" I declared that having lost my husband and son, the trip would make me forget my grief. I added that all my things having been destroyed in the war, I would be able to acquire a wardrobe abroad. It would have been equally fatal to display any anxiety to leave the country.

Fully a week passed before I was called again to the Foreign Commissariat. It appeared that my three questionnaires were satisfactory, but more copies were needed. That indicated that my application was moving forward, but that at the same time a further check was to be made. I was given another stack of questionnaires to fill out. With the aid of the notes I had made, I acquitted myself of the task.

Then followed weeks of investigation by the NKVD. Agents came to examine me and ask me questions about my sisters. Teachers in the district told me that they had been interviewed about me.

Time dragged on. The winter was drawing to a close. I got orders to report to the forbidding premises of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, the nerve-centre of the Soviet dictatorship which inspires awe in nearly all Russian hearts.

Meets Aide To Stalin

The interior of this impressive edifice is heavily draped, and I had a feeling shared by all those waiting there that many ears lurked behind the heavy drapes. I was inspected at every step here.

Finally I was ushered into the presence of Alexandrov himself, then Stalin's chief aide in the field of education, whose position was more powerful than that of the Commissar of Education himself. Alexandrov, the author of a famous Communist handbook on pedagogy, has since been removed for heresy. He was a cultured man and in the course of the interview asked me if I knew English.

It was clear that I was slated for America. He also inquired if I was acquainted with foreign schools, and then casually dropped the question as he looked at my papers:

"Your husband died, eh? Died in 1927, I see?"

I was scared. In the back of my mind the thought flashed, "Do they know the truth? It's the Lubianka—NKVD prison—for me!"

But I looked him straight in the eye and answered, "Yes, he's dead."

Twice more I was called to the Central Committee for further scrutiny by two other top officials. One of these was a hard-bitten and vicious examiner. He gave me a long lecture on how I should behave in America, that I should study the political situation, look into the causes of unemployment and explore the diseases of capitalism.

Then came more visits to the Foreign Commissariat, this time to fill out questionnaires and take pictures for a passport. And all the while one had to suppress the joy of the hoped-for release, to watch one's step and one's tongue. I kept wondering if it was all a dream, after all.

Luxury Of New Clothes

MAY arrived. I received a call to report to the private shop of the Foreign Commissariat maintained solely for special government officials. I had never believed that I, a teacher, would get inside one of these much-envied "closed" stores maintained for the aristocracy. The Soviet government is anxious to put the best face on all of its representatives abroad.

I was fitted out with a black suit, and although the cloth was of poor quality, it was thrilling. I also acquired a blue summer school uniform, a woolen dress, a leather purse, a pair of shoes, a coat, and a trunk. When all these things were delivered to my little abode on the outskirts of Moscow, the neighborhood was agog. Teachers and strangers came to view this luxury, feeling the clothes admirably and discussing their quality and value.

As I was leaving for the station to take the train to the Black Sea port, where I was to board a Soviet vessel bound for the United States, still hardly trusting my own senses, a neighbor came to bid me farewell. He whispered into my ear:

"You're going to America. Don't ever come back here!"

No one knew that this was my decision.

Tomorrow: The trip to America.

Rest Of Dominion Enjoys Holiday; Government Works

By CANADIAN PRESS

Lights burned on Parliament Hill Monday night while Canada relaxed for the traditional Thanksgiving Day feast.

The lights seemed symbolic of the state of world tension, which most Canadians forgot for a while Monday in revelling in mother's cooking, watching sport contests or engaging in sobering reflections on how favored they were as a nation.

The lights on the hill indicated acting Prime Minister St. Laurent was preparing for a hurried trip overseas to attend the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference.

Across the country, a Canadian Press survey showed, Canadians indulged in the usual festivities of thanksgiving. Transportation services were taxed to the utmost at the larger centres, while roads were black with cars. Rain cut down many activities in Ontario and Quebec, but in the west, crowds enjoyed clear, sunny weather.

In the maritimes, where skies were overcast but temperatures were warm, crowds enjoyed baseball, harness racing and hunting.

Thousands attended football games in various centres despite the rain.

Winnipeg had one of its biggest week-end travel rushes and more than 100 were stranded at the bus depot Saturday night as last buses left for rural points.

Hunters went out after ducks in Manitoba and other parts of the west.

Warm weather at Calgary brought out players for last flings at golf and tennis.

At Victoria, where the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opened its annual convention, the visitors shared with their Vancouver Island hosts a delightful late summer day of continuous sunshine.

NEW YORK (CP) — Barbara Ann Scott, Olympic and world figure-skating champion, will make her professional debut at the Roxy Theatre here Dec. 22, the Canadian Press was told officially Monday.

Sailor Attempting To Reach Fiancee Fears Deportation

EMERSON, Man. (CP)—The latest fear of 24-year-old Kenneth Darling, British seaman who jumped ship in New York in an attempt to reach his sweetheart in Edmonton, is that if he is unable to enter Canada he will be deported by United States immigration authorities.

Darling, anxiously awaiting news of his position in this border town, said it was rumored here that U.S. immigration officials will arrest him for illegal entry if he is unable to remain in Canada.

Darling left his ship in New York and reached Emerson, where he gave himself up to Canadian immigration officials.

Darling, who has been detained here for more than a week, is hoping for news that will lead to an early marriage for him and his sweetheart, 20-year-old Eileen Newnam. His case is under consideration by immigration officials in Ottawa.

$2,000 Annual Wage Minimum, Pensions On C.C.L.'s Program

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor drafting a program for the next 12 months, decided today to campaign for a $2,000 minimum annual wage, equal pay for men and women and an "adequate" pension scheme for all industrial workers.

The pension question provoked most debate. Several speakers urged Congress pressure on the federal government to set up an "over-all social security plan," paid for to a major degree from taxes.

In sharp contrast to Monday's hectic session as the eighth annual C.C.L. convention started, today's deliberations contained no fireworks about Communism.

Thirteen of 234 resolutions were adopted; 35 others were referred to special committees for study before presentation to the delegates.

Decisions taken today included these:

1. To help C.C.L. member unions "to have fair labor legislation enacted in each province."
2. To give affiliates a greater say in the Congress' annual submission to the federal cabinet.
3. To support farmer-labor-teacher and co-operative organizations such as the Saskatchewan Occupational Group Council.

A routine resolution of publicity was referred back to the resolutions committee after an appeal from a United Electrical Workers' delegate for a statement of "condemnation" for the "anti-labor attitude of some radio stations and newspapers."

Union Delegates Wipe Perspiring Brows As Everything Warms Up At Convention

More than tempers and voices were raised at the Club Sirocco this morning when delegates to the Trades and Labor Congress convention got down to business on their second day here.

The temperature in the place was certainly raised—probably to an all-time high.

Ties were loosened and in many cases discarded. Coats and vests were removed from sweating bodies and thrown over backs of chairs.

Handkerchiefs were in continuous use blotting beaded brows.

Convention programs and min-

eographed reports were used as fans.

The building's air conditioning system fought a losing fight with the smoke coming from the convention floor. The air was thick and throats were dry. A bar selling soft drinks did a good business.

All doors to the building were left open in the hope some fresh air would find its way in. Guards were posted everywhere, however, to see that nothing more than air crept in.

"WHERE'S YOUR BADGE?" "Where's your badge?" the guards demanded of persons seeking entry to the meeting place.

Pale-faced delegates shuffled from time to time from their seats to the doorways for a breath of fresh air. A lot of people jammed in far-away corners had to be content with the air they had, however. They could not find openings between themselves and the doors.

One fellow had the right idea. He fainted and in no time at all was out in the fresh air. It's a wonder some others didn't try the same thing.

Mainland Traffic Crashes Kill Three

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three persons were killed in traffic accidents on British Columbia's lower mainland during the Thanksgiving holiday week-end. Today, the year's first fog belt hit Vancouver, snarling traffic and causing several minor accidents.

Killed during the week-end were Lionel Hibberd, 22, Vancouver; G. S. Colvin, 62, Vancouver; and Michael Delaney, 60, White Rock, B.C.

The 1948 death toll here now stands at 28.

House Robbers Get Jewelry, Money

Jewelry and money were taken by thieves who broke into two city residences last night, city police reported.

From the home of H. Harwood, 2662 Fernwood Road, the burglars secured a $250 engagement ring from a bedroom dresser drawer. A nearby ladder is believed to have been used to gain entry through the bathroom window.

Two men's watches, a pocket variety and a wrist type, and $30 from a purse, were secured by thieves who entered the home of Mrs. Gee Sing, 2016 Blanshard Street, through an unlocked window.

Housing, Commercial Building Emphasized In Construction Gain

By CANADIAN PRESS

Building in Canada continues to climb, with emphasis on housing and commercial construction, and decreases for heavier industry.

MacLean Building Reports, Ltd. states contracts in September totaled $79,729,200, up $3,500,000 from September last year. Total for the first nine months of the year was $744,200,000, up $196,000,000 from the same period of 1947.

Figures for September, with September last year in brackets: Housing $34,105,400 ($22,473,300); Commercial $29,787,400 ($14,866,400); Industrial $7,902,100 ($18,663,100); Engineering $7,934,300 ($20,160,700).

ACROSS CANADA

Western oil and minerals resources will be examined this week in Winnipeg at the annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. Among the newer Canadian minerals which will get attention is lithium, which is being developed at Cat Lake, 90 miles northwest of Winnipeg. It is used in degassing and purifying other metals, such as copper, bronze, magnesium and steel.

Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. made 11,122 passenger cars and trucks in September, second highest one-month since resumption of peacetime production.

More than 45,000,000 acres now are under lease in Alberta for oil exploration. Nearly 2,000,000 acres of reservations were made in the week ended Oct. 7, bringing to nearly 14,000,000 acres the leases taken out in late summer and fall, mostly in the Edmonton areas of Leduc, Woodland and Redwater.

Canada is expected to have a surplus of more than $500,000,000 for the fiscal half-year ended Sept. 30, or more than the surplus estimated for the whole year in the last budget—a hopeful portent for taxpayers.

WEEK-END MARKETS

Canadian markets were closed Monday for Thanksgiving, but managed a relatively firm trend in Saturday's quiet trading. New York, closed today for Columbus Day, drifted downward slightly Monday in dull fashion. Chicago grains were mostly lower Monday and New York cotton was 80 cents a bale higher to 60 cents lower.

France Under Blackout Of Power As Coal Mines Idle

PARIS (AP)—Electric power was cut throughout France today as a Communist-led coal strike sapped the country's industrial life.

On the rail strike front, some improvement was noted. There were still scattered walkouts, but work was resumed at the Strasbourg station. The strike was due to end today at Mulhouse and Colmar.

This will be France's ninth consecutive winter of power cuts. A spokesman for the nationalized French power network said the cuts were not planned for this year, but were necessitated by the coal strike, now in its ninth day. The strike has already cost the country more than 1,000,000 tons of coal.

LOSE 2 DAY A WEEK

Ordinary consumers of power will be cut off two days a week, from dawn to dusk. Priority users, such as hospitals, newspapers and the United Nations now meeting in Paris, will not be affected.

The Communist-led dock workers were ordered out today for 24 hours.

A 48-hour work stoppage was ordered Monday in the steel mills of the Metz area. Neighboring districts are already strike-bound.

Transport Minister Christian Pineau announced Monday night the government had refused Communist demands for wage increases on the nationalized railroads and he threatened to discharge any strikers who keep others off the job.

Some of the rail workers have been demanding a minimum monthly wage of 25,000 francs ($75)—twice the present minimum—plus a month's vacation with pay and a 40-hour week.

Will Conciliate Dispute On Wages

A dispute over wages between the Hudson's Bay Company and 450 employees of the Victoria store will be taken to conciliation, it was learned today.

The employees are members of the Retail Clerks' Union, Local 279.

The Labor Relations Board has asked the company and union to name representatives on the conciliation board.

Rosemary Bradstock, nine and one-half years old, 848 Esquimalt Road, sustained a possible fracture of the right wrist and back injuries, when she fell from the top of the Beacon Hill Park slide to the ground Monday afternoon. She was taken to Jubilee Hospital by J. Taylor, 749 Island Highway.

Prizegiving Marks End Of R.V.Y.C.'s 1948 Sailing Season

Royal Victoria Yacht Club officially ended its sailing season Saturday night with presentation of cups and prizes won by its craft in a series of races.

The season, one of the best enjoyed by the club, was highlighted this year when R.V.Y.C. played host to the Pacific International Yachting Association regatta.

At the Saturday night ceremony, the prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. Andrew Wright, wife of the club's commodore. Included was the Thomas Golby Perpetual Award, given to the junior member showing the best club spirit and seamanship, won by Miss Ingrid Jones.

Winners in C Class cruisers were:

Max Young Trophy—May D, Ned Ashe, first, and Lalanga, R. V. James, second.

Ben Temple Cup—Buccaneer, H. A. Wallace, first, and May D, Ned Ashe, second.

Virtue Cup—Galatea, Dr. J. A. Stewart, first, and Lalanga, R. V. James, second.

Dungeness Overnight Race Award—May D, Ned Ashe, first, and Buccaneer, H. A. Wallace, second.

Winners in Lightning class were:

Warlow Cup—Clipper, R. Kiley, first, and Iona, Grant Mackinnon, second.

Cadboro Bay Cup—Iona, Grant Mackinnon, first, and Aerial, Eric Dowell, second.

C Series Award—Iona, G. Mackinnon, first, and Hyak, R. Moore, second.

Discovery Island—Challenge Cup—Hyak, R. Moore, first, and Hardtak, R. Fraser, second.

Star class winners were:

Longstreth Cup—Vela, A. C. F. Evans, first, and Tatots, Logan Mayhew, second.

Discovery Island Cup—Vela, A. C. F. Evans, first, and Tatots, Logan Mayhew, second.

Winner of the Johnson Cup in the Snipe class was Stormy, Miss Violet McConaghy. Second was P.D.Q., C. Wood.

In the Comet class, Sprite, sailed by Ken Johnson, won the Tillicum Cup. Second award went to Bip, sailed by Lt.-Cmdr. F. Harley.

In crew racing, Colin Corbett won in the Lightning class Hyak. The veteran's race for Lightnings was won by G. A. Heal. H. Cann took second award.

Court of Revision will hold its final sitting at City Hall Wednesday afternoon. Court began sitings Oct. 1 to hear appeals of property owners on assessments for the year 1949.

Total U.S. Harvest To Exceed 1946 Record By 8 Per Cent

No Inquest Into Gunshot Death

There will be no inquest into the death of nine-year-old Arthur (Buddy) Element, 888 Island Highway, Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, reported this morning after further inquiries into the fatal shooting on Saturday afternoon at the boys' home. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Element.

The case has been labeled as another of those tragic accidents which occur when youths get their hands on lethal weapons. Sgt. C. C. Jacklin, Cpl. J. Smith and Constable V. Bond of the B.C. Police attended at the scene of the shooting.

They reported there was a "Tiny-Tots" picnic and wiener roast in progress when Buddy and one of his friends were asked to go into the Element house to bring some chairs.

While in the house, police said, the boys got their hands on the rifle and when the friend pulled the trigger, the gun discharged and the bullet went completely through young Element's body, from one side to the other. He was instantly killed.

The Element boy was a student at Langford Public School. He is survived by his parents and sister, Rosemary, aged 12 years, a student of Belmont High School. Funeral arrangements are being handled by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. Ltd.

Enemy Air Forces Halted Aegean Move

LONDON (AP)—Britain's soldiers and sailors couldn't get a foothold in the Aegean in 1943 because the Germans had too many airmen overhead.

The Admiralty let out the full story Monday night in a dispatch on the ill-fated operation "Accolade," published as a supplement to the official London Gazette.

"These operations were carried out to take advantage of the Italian surrender to obtain a foothold in the Aegean with such forces as were available in the Middle East," wrote the naval commander.

"We failed because we were unable to establish airfields in the area of operations."

Chin Kwong, Johnson Street, was fined $50 and $2.50 costs in city police court today when he was found guilty on a charge of supplying beer to an Indian.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a record crop volume practically assured for this year, United States farmers already are turning their attention to planting for another big output in 1949.

The Agriculture Department reported this in a harvest-time statement Monday, estimating this year's total crop production will exceed the 1946 record by 8 per cent.

Favorable weather in September virtually nailed down earlier forecasts that 1948 production will top all others.

Fall ploughing, field preparation and seeding of such fall-sown grains as winter wheat, rye and oats are progressing seasonally, the department said.

In some areas, however, lack of soil moisture has held up grain seeding. This was the case in parts of the great southern plains, where dry weather a year ago also hindered operations.

This year's record corn crop will turn out to be larger than the department had previously predicted if its latest estimate is borne out. Monday's report put the crop at 3,567,955,000 bushels—a boost of about 39,000,000 bushels from the September forecast.

Mother Sues Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Veronica Lake's mother Monday sued the actress for support, charging her daughter had left her destitute. Mrs. C. Veronica Keane, 47, asked $500 monthly support, plus $17,416 she claimed under a 1943 support agreement. Mrs. Keane, a widow, stated she had spent her life savings advancing the career of her daughter.

FRANCE IN TURMOIL

EVEN THE MOST ASSIDUOUS STUDENT of French political affairs must be finding it somewhat difficult to keep track of the number of Prime Ministers which the Fourth Republic has been getting monthly. Unfortunately, however, there is nothing humorous in this situation. Each change of "the pilot" is the result of a new development either in the social or economic scene—or both—usually forced upon a peace-loving people by an extremist minority. Therein lies the potential tragedy of the current epidemic of strikes which so obviously owes its origin to that element in French life which not only has learned nothing from history, but which is permitting itself to be misled by sinister agencies taking their instructions and deriving their inspiration from a Communist oligarchy.

What strikes the people of the New World as strange is that a nation which has felt the brutal heel of the invader three times in about three-quarters of a century should, in this year of grace, 1948, permit a relatively few loud-mouthed doctrinaires and trouble-makers to tilt the national boat to a dangerous angle. This risky exercise, of course, pleases the Left and intrigues the Right. The men of the Kremlin can be visualized as rubbing their hands with glee as they observe a key nation of the West ripening on the ideological tree, readying itself, so to speak, for the plucking. And if, to change the metaphor, it is to be assumed that General Charles de Gaulle has stacked his pack of political cards so that his "wild" joker can be dealt in support of the reverse form of authoritarianism, the French people would appear to be in for another bad time. It is to be hoped that wiser councils will prevail, that the common folk of France, the citizen who suffers through, and eventually pays for, war will be saved from further suppression of any kind—either from without or from within.

No useful purpose is to be served by rehashing French history of the last decade. But it is a thousand pities that a sufficient number of those hardy peasants—the men and women who dug down into the family "stocking" to pay the bill which Bismarck presented in 1871 in record time—either lack the will or the means of presenting a united front against the current assault on their basic liberties. It is not a simple matter, however, for a country boasting an inherent individualism such as France—the France whose people expected of and wished for great things from the Fourth Republic—to accommodate herself to the new concept of progress so long as she clings to a political structure that tries to support itself with a multiplicity of parties.

PLAIN SPEAKING

FEW MEN HAVE MORE OUTSPOKEN opinions on world affairs than Mr. Winston Churchill, and few men have a better right—based on knowledge, experience, judgment and lifelong training—to make such opinions public. At Llandudno, Wales, on Saturday, Britain's wartime Prime Minister gave voice to those feelings that have welled up in the "little man" of all free nations in the past months, but which have remained unexpressed because of lack of certainty, lack of inside knowledge and a reluctance to call a showdown on what could easily become a Third World War. Mr. Churchill, in the forthright manner that has become expected of him—a manner that is gradually being forced on other spokesmen of the western democracies by reason of the exasperation and frustration engendered by Russian policies—has placed his cards on the table. In terse phrases he outlined what the Soviet Union should do to end the impossible global situation it is creating—and the likely consequences of a failure to take his advice.

War may come by an overt act at any time because of the Berlin crisis, he said. United States possession of atomic bombs is the main stumbling-block to a Russian sweep over the whole of Europe. Relinquishing of that weapon in the present circumstances would be "suicidal . . . at the present time our only foundation of peace and the prevention of actual war rests upon strength." The West should "bring matters to a head and make a final settlement," while they are strong and before Russia gets the atomic bomb. There can be no encouragement through "false hopes of a friendly settlement with Soviet Russia."

The foregoing were some of the hard-hitting comments delivered by the man who led Britain to victory over Nazism. And to those who appended a list of actions which Russia should take before atomic energy can safely be internationalized. They include retirement "to their own country," liberation of peoples now held subject by them, cessation of activities causing trouble and unrest in a score of lands throughout the world, and "above all, let them throw open their vast regions on equal terms to the ordinary travel and traffic of mankind."

Such advice, if acted upon, would rapidly disperse the fear and distrust that now permeate the world. Needless to say, the clique in the Kremlin is not likely to follow it, so that Mr. Churchill's other recommendations—to look for safety in strength—are necessarily up for consideration.

The daily news pages reflect the fact that the patience of the western world has now reached its limit. One by one, western leaders are making public their conviction that the "coercion, subterfuge, duplicity and double-dealing" of Russia (to quote the U.S. Assistant Secretary of State) have gone far enough, that such procedures have become the main threat to world peace, and that they must stop—or be stopped. Surely even the Politburo, to which no Russian may say "no" on pain of death, can read the writing on the wall.

MAY HIS RECOVERY BE SPEEDED

WHEN MR. MACKENZIE KING STEPPED from the leadership of the Liberal Party and announced that his withdrawal from that position would precede by a relatively short time his retirement from the office of First Minister of the Crown in Canada, it was apparent that the years were leaving their mark on a robust body. He had intended to round out his career, however, with attendance at the current conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers—an intention frustrated by the circulatory condition which has now confined him to his bed in London.

Although any ailment can be serious to a man of 73, today's reports indicate the Prime Minister is "quite comfortable" after a restful night. It will be the hope of citizens throughout the Dominion, and his countless friends and admirers in other countries, that the progress he has made will continue and that he will shortly be restored to full health. Under the circumstances, it will not be unexpected if the transition of authority is passed from Mr. King's veteran hands to those of his trusted successor ahead of schedule. At all events, Mr. St. Laurent will now take up the conference duties his chief had hoped to discharge, and every precaution will be taken to guard the health of the man who has given such notable leadership to Canada for a record number of years. As Canadians follow the debates at London, the discussions will probably take second place to the announcements relative to Mr. King's condition. His speedy recovery will be the wish of all.

GOING UP

FIGURES ISSUED BY THE DOMINION Bureau of Statistics indicate that the population of Canada increased to an estimated 12,883,000, as of last June 1, from the Census total of 11,507,000 in 1941—a gain of 12 per cent. This is an increase that has been shared by all the provinces except Prince Edward Island, which appears to have lost 1,000 inhabitants over the seven-year period. Ontario, with the largest population of the Dominion's nine subdivisions, gained 108,000, to place one-third of all Canadians within her borders. Quebec increased by 80,000, to reach a total of 3,792,000; and British Columbia was third in gain and size, increasing 38,000 to achieve a total of 1,082,000. Alberta, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick follow in that order as to extent of increase and number of inhabitants.

Much of the national gain came during the last two years of the period. In the year ending June 1, 1947, the population increased an estimated 275,000, and in the next 12 months, 301,000. It is interesting to notice that of the latter figure, 90,000 represented new immigrants to the Dominion; well over 210,000 resulted from Canadian births. The influx of new citizens, therefore, while still hotly debated in some quarters, does not assume the importance in the country's population increase that the heat of the arguments might indicate.

ADVANCED TRAINING

THE ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY'S PLAN to fit selected ratings for commissioned rank by providing opportunity for them to attend university has gone into effect this year. It is one that will have gained the full approval of the Canadian public as a sensible and democratic approach to the problem of getting the best men to do the jobs that must be done. Naval ratings, particularly those who show promise in engineering and similar technical branches, will thus be able to obtain advanced education in their chosen fields, and later attain commissioned rank where their knowledge can be best utilized. The Navy emphasizes that while the university plan is necessarily restricted in scope, other regular channels of promotion to commissioned rank are still open. Modern warfare is a highly technical science, demanding the utmost in intelligence and training from members of the armed services. This program is one method of helping to meet the need.

FARICAL ARRANGEMENT

CANADA APPEARS TO BE DECIDING what to do with her diplomatic representatives in Moscow. It is well that the Department of External Affairs should reconsider the situation at this juncture. According to a dispatch from Ottawa, it is proposed to ask the Soviet government for some relaxation of the restrictions on travel which obviously hamper the movements of those who at present compose the embassy staff in the Russian capital. If this normal and sensible request should be refused, of course, there would be no point in continuing the present arrangement.

Neither in Ottawa nor in Moscow has an ambassador operated in recent days. The able and experienced Dana Wilgress filled the post in the Soviet capital until a little more than a year ago. Mr. George Zarubin, who left Ottawa after the "spy" revelation of a year or so ago, is now the Russian ambassador to the Court of St. James's. In the meantime, the two embassies are in the hands of Chargés d'Affaires. But the sooner these tenuous diplomatic relationships between the two countries are clarified, or ended altogether, the better.

Walter Lippmann

DILEMMA OF EUROPEAN DEFENCE

WHILE THERE is general agreement in the United States that the defence of western Europe is a vital interest of the country, the question of ways and means presents many difficult, though not necessarily insoluble, problems.

The real situation was defined authoritatively a few days ago by the Deputy Army Chief of Staff, General Collins, when he said in an address at St. Louis that the manpower and industrial potential of the western Europeans "is still great . . . and with worldwide co-operation, there is a daily increase in their strength to defend themselves. . . . At the moment, however, their domestic problems are so great that their military potential is near an all-time low."

IT FOLLOWS FROM this that the development of adequate military power will take time. At best one cannot count on much less than two years. Even if Congress were called into special session right after election in order to ratify an alliance, to authorize and appropriate for military lend-lease, and to impose the industrial controls needed to manufacture the munitions and equipment, time would have to pass before European continental armies existed which could fight an effective holding operation between the Elbe and the Rhine.

During the period of preparation the defence of western Europe would depend, as it does today, not upon the west's ability to hold the Red Army but upon the democracy's ability to deter the Kremlin from ordering it to march. The crucial question is whether the deterrent effect of American air and sea power would be sufficient, or can be made sufficient, to meet the additional strain that would be created by serious measures to arm western Europe.

THE ADDITIONAL strain should not be underestimated. As things are now there is a real though precarious balance of power which preserves the peace: The ability of the western powers to devastate the Russian cities is balanced by the Red Army's ability to overrun the cities of western Europe. But if effective measures were taken and completed to arm western Europe, the balance of power would have turned radically against the Russians. Their cities would still be vulnerable to the atomic bomb; the western cities would be secure against the Russian infantry.

The period when western Europe was arming—but not yet effectively armed—would inevitably be one of extreme danger. The bitterness of the Russian reaction to the economic Marshall plan has been considerable; against a military Marshall plan it would surely be even more violent, especially if the formation of a western German government were followed, as many who sponsor it intend, by the reprecation of the German army.

DURING this ultimately critical period, the democracies' problem would be how to defend western Europe while it is being organized to defend itself. The basic strategy of containing the Red Army at the Elbe by the threat of retaliation inside Russia might not be sufficient. In any event the continental Europeans would not believe it was sufficient. Additional measures would have to be taken at once, with the forces that can soon be made available, to barricade western Europe.

How much can be done is a mechanical question on which there is as yet no agreed opinion among the professional military men. It would, however, be imprudent to assume that enough can be done, enough that is to say, not only to convince the Russian military commanders that a march to the west would be too expensive but also to convince the people of France and of the Low Countries that the Russians were convinced.

THE QUESTION, THEN, arises as to whether diplomacy and statesmanship might resolve the dilemma of how Europe is to be defended during the dangerous period while it is being organized to defend itself. It is, I think, at least conceivable that this could be done.

The essence of the problem is to convince the Kremlin, first, that it would be exceedingly dangerous to invade western Europe and, second, that the arming of western Europe is in fact defensive. On the first point, there is no need to wait for several months to debate and ratify a military alliance: It would be useful to have an explicit declaration now, supported by Mr. Dewey, that any advance beyond the armistice lines would be an act of war against the United States. That declaration could be confirmed later by treaty. But it should be made now.

ON THE SECOND POINT, to induce the Kremlin to accept the arming of France and the Western Union, the best hope lies, it seems to me, in coupling a military lend-lease program with an offer to negotiate the military evacuation of Germany on the basis of a treaty which left Germany neutralized and disarmed under something like the original Vandenberg-Byrnes proposals.

Such an offer would not entail a sudden American withdrawal from Europe. It would entail a withdrawal from Germany into western Europe as when the Russians withdrew from Germany into eastern Europe. The west would still be nearer to the Ruhr than the Russians. But it is conceivable that they might be willing to withdraw from the middle of Europe and to accept the organization of a western European defence system if the Germans were not incorporated into it.

And if they were not willing, the western position would certainly be no weaker, and probably it would be stronger.

Turning On The Heat

Science Is Not Enough

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

SCIENCE offers "the best hope of mankind's becoming one world in purpose and objectives," says the centennial program of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

NO BOUNDARIES

It offers the following reasons to bolster an understandably biased opinion: "Science is universal. It recognizes no national boundaries, is limited by no racial prejudices, follows no dogma or party line. Whether a discovery in science is made by an Englishman, a Russian or a Japanese is not important. All that matters is the soundness of the work itself. When a scientific paper is published no one asks if it was written by a Negro, a Roman Catholic, a Jew or a Seventh Day Adventist. The paper is judged by what it is, not by who did the research which it reports."

The trouble with that reasoning is that the A.A.A.S. spokesman is writing about the world of science, not the world in which scientists must live. When he neglects to limit his observations to the world of science he invites the suspicion that he is paying no attention to what is going on outside his laboratory. The fact that he is writing in an A.A.A.S. publication, and apparently with the association's approval, does little to recommend scientists as the instruments of world unity.

NO INTERFERENCE?

Who can remember Hitler's nazification of German science and still say that no one asks the race or religion of the scientist? Who can read of today's sovietized science in Russia and say that science follows no party line?

The scientists seem to forget that they do not market their own product. Their discoveries pass into the hands of government or private commerce. The scientists and those who develop and exploit these discoveries are bound by the laws of politics of the government under which they live. Thus applied science can be intensely nationalistic.

But pure science is not hampered by bigotry and prejudice. Then, one might ask, why not let the scientists run the world's governments in this scientific age?

The flaw in that idea is that science has no morals, either. It is an impersonal, emotionless pursuit.

Pure science has never balked at its function of uncovering and utilizing the mysteries of nature. And even if its practitioners were empowered to apply science to everyday life as heads of government, there is no assurance that their professional lack of morality or their unprofessional human emotions would permit them to do better than the laymen are doing today.

A NEW SOCIETY

If there is ever to be world unity, it still seems that the only force that can achieve it is the force of individual morality and humanity exerted through world governments. We doubt that the American Association for the Advancement of Science can produce such a force. What is probably needed is an International Society for the Elimination of Human Cussedness.

Statement Versus Fact

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

SOCIALISM REJECTS capitalism, says David Lewis, National Secretary of the C.C.F. Party "because of its merciless exploitation of human effort." It rejects communism "because of its denial of individual personality."

REASONABLE?

Does any of this make the sort of sense that reasonable people might reasonably demand of any theory that asked their allegiance? On that ground we could challenge the last clause because in socialism's demand for social equality there is the denial of the freedom of action that is the essence of individual personality.

We would challenge the first clause because we do not believe it could be supported by any evidence that reasonable and unbiased men would accept. Such broad generalizations should be dealt themselves because sooner or later they come up against facts that give them the lie.

CHECK THE FACTS

Let's check this charge of "merciless exploitation of human effort" against the facts of one of the biggest industries we have in Canada, the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The C.P.R. has a total of 92,858 owners. In 1947 they received as total payment, for hauling the $72,000,000 that made the operation possible, an average of $206 each.

There are 83,528 persons employed by the railroad in all its operations. Last year these received as wages or salaries an average of $2,322.

But the railroad did more than provide these salaries. It paid close to $8,000,000 that year in pensions. That pension item alone was three times as much as the 20,000 Canadian investors received for their 14% ownership of the company.

ALMOST HALF

The pension fund alone, if spread over the whole working force, would have represented almost half of the $206 that the owners received.

Now try and make that sound like a "merciless exploitation of human effort" if you can.

Our Trade Is Booming

By R. J. DEACHMAN

A GLANCE AT THE statement of Canadian exports provides some rather startling facts. One has to conclude that we didn't start growing until we went to war and after one of the bloodiest wars in human history we find that our trade is bewilderingly higher than it was back there in 1938.

COMPARISON

In the seven months ending July, 1938, our total exports amounted to $453.2 millions. Let us now put the facts in tabular form so that they will stand out clearly in our minds and broaden the picture. We may as well turn back to 1969, almost the first full year of our history as a nation:

	TOTAL EXPORTS
Full year, 1938	$3,400,000
One month, July 1938	66,200,000
One month, July 1948	250,900,000
Seven months ending July 1938	453,200,000
Seven months ending July 1947	1,565,000,000
Seven months ending July 1948	1,681,000,000
Seven months ending July 1948	1,681,000,000
Seven months ending July 1948	1,681,000,000
Seven months ending July 1948	1,681,000,000

We were exporting in 1948 (seven months ending July) $3.64 worth of products for every dollar we exported in the same period in 1938. What brought about these increases? Almost every country in the world when peace came was anxious to buy, while on this continent, Canada and the United States had increased their productive capacity and were therefore better equipped than almost any other nation in the world to supply promptly the things which were needed.

Letter To The Editor

CREOSOTE IN CHIMNEYS

In answer to Mr. W. J. Conover's letter, which appeared in your paper on October 7, I might say that it has been the established practice for many years in this city for competent chimney sweeps to burn out badly creosoted chimney flues, a permit for this first being obtained from the Fire Chief's Office.

R. T. BRINDLE, Chief,
Office of Fire Department,
626 Cormorant Street.

Who took these products? The exports to British countries increased from $248.4 million in the seven months ending July 1938 to $592.2 million in the corresponding period of 1948. Our exports to foreign countries were still greater. From a low of $204.8 million in the seven months ending July, 1938, they rose to $1,058.8 million in the corresponding period for 1948. The increase in exports to the United States for the same periods was 450 per cent.

EXCHANGE PROBLEM

Our exports to foreign countries are gaining in comparison with exports to the United Kingdom. Here the problem is one of exchange. The British pound has depreciated in terms of dollars, the United Kingdom in its own interest must seek supplies in countries with depreciated currencies. This condition may last for some time. Everything hangs on the prospects of peace and the recovery of Europe. Only time will solve these problems.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst
THE Marshall Plan no sooner gets free of one danger than it is beset by another, a fresh threat being the Communist-led French strikes which Premier Henri Queuille warns are assuming the character of a rebellion. Those are grave words to come from the leader of a major government.

Acting under cover of the smokescreen provided by the Red blockade of western Berlin, the Communists have organized and got under way this new offensive which is further disrupting the already-chaotic French economy. Interior Minister Jules Moch charges that the strikes are engineered by the Cominform.

The Cominform is the successor of the Comintern, the general staff for world revolution which Moscow "abolished" in 1943 because of fierce objection to it by the democracies. The Cominform apparently began organizing the present upheaval last July, and French Communists have laid the groundwork for the sabotage methodically.

French industry is being dealt a body blow by the coal strike that already has cost the recovery program 1,000,000 tons of fuel. A railway strike is beginning to get a grip on the throat of national transportation.

VITAL ELEMENTS ENDANGERED

Thus two vital elements of French life—fuel and transportation—are endangered. Without them the country would be helpless.

Obviously this new assault is aimed at the European Recovery Program. However, that is far from being the whole story, for dependent on that program is the military defence of western Europe against further Communist aggression.

France is the key continental power in the new western European alliance comprising Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. With France hamstringing, the alliance would be weakened to the point of near impotence.

COINCIDES WITH BERLIN
The French picture fits in perfectly with the Battle of Berlin. The "neutral" countries in the United Nations Security Council have been running themselves ragged in an effort to mediate between the Russians and the western democracies.

It's a fair guess that Moscow has been deliberately stalling to see how the French strikes progress. Should things worsen in France, we may be sure the Russians will capitalize the situation and become more exacting in their demands. So for the time being France is a barometer by which to tell how the storm goes.

ENTERTAINMENT CHARGE

Winnipeg Free Press
Asked by a newspaperman at a press conference held after the nomination convention in Algoma East, "What will you do, if Mr. Drew runs against you?" Mr. L. B. Pearson, minister of external affairs and government candidate, is reported instantly to have replied: "Hold joint meetings and charge admission." Mr. Pearson's campaign opens well.

UNJUST PRACTICE

Ottawa Citizen
The principle of equal pay for equal work is becoming more widely recognized. But the harsh reality is that in many cases women are still regarded as a form of "cheap labor."

If employers were compelled to pay women equally with men for the same work, women would lose that particular advantage in obtaining jobs. Employment would be offered on the basis of merit, in which case men could scarcely complain against the hiring of women.

NOT SOUND

Toronto Star
The Progressive Conservatives can hardly hope to become a national political party again on such proposals as a free market for gold and Canada's withdrawal from the International Monetary Fund.

If the idea of a free market for gold were sound, then there might be something to warrant Canada's withdrawal from the Monetary Fund. But it is not sound. It has so many disadvantages that it is somewhat of a surprise that the Conservatives would even give it the dignity of consideration.

Vote Approves Suspension Of Smelters From C.C.L.

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor, its mind made up on one big controversial issue, waded today through the first of 234 resolutions which may spark more bitter debate before its five-day convention ends.

At Monday's stormy opening session, 775 delegates voted decisively to back the executive council's suspension of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a powerful union said to be Communist-dominated.

That decision, by a show of hands, came after speeches by John Clark of Chicago, International smelter president, and Pat Conroy of Ottawa, Congress secretary-treasurer.

APOLOGY OFFERED

Mr. Clark, admitting an article in the official smelter paper last July 19 was "erroneous and malicious," offered a "sincere apology" and appealed for reinstatement of his union. Mr. Conroy criticized the apology as insufficient and warned against persons seeking to "take over" unions "for their own particular purposes."

The fiery little Congress official did not mention Communism by name, but he said that the writer of the article, which "slandered" Congress president A. R. Mosher and another C.C.L. official, was a member of the Labor-Progressive (Communist) Party who had been responsible for other charges that labor leaders were "selling the rank and file down the river."

(The article said Mr. Mosher, also president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, had tried to settle for less than the railway union's original wage demands during negotiations last summer.

(Henry Myers of Timmins, Ont., writer of the article, has since been dismissed by the Smelters' union.)

MUCH NOISE

Noisy outbursts from the convention floor—with the 51 members of the United Electrical Workers' delegation making the most noise—punctuated the appeal proceedings. In every case, rulings by Mr. Mosher, the chairman, were sustained.

C. S. Jackson of Toronto, Canadian director of the U.E.W., another union said to be loaded with Communists, protested as a "gag rule" Mr. Mosher's announcement that there could be no discussion of the appeal. The convention backed up the chairman's ruling.

The resolutions from which the congress will later shape its policy for the next year include ones ranging from internal congress policies to government labor legislation and foreign relations. The issue of communism probably will be raised again during debate on resolutions concerning Russia, red-baiting and the Marshall Plan.

MOSHER'S ADDRESS

In his address at the opening of the convention A. R. Mosher, president, said the greatest menace to democracy was "the tolerance of Communists and their dupes in the democratic countries."

There has been "a great deal too much timidity in dealing with the subject," he said.

Canadians' greatest need for education was in the field of foreign relations, with special reference to Communist tactics, he said.

"Nothing that can be done in Canada and in other democratic countries to awaken the people to the menace of Communism should be overlooked," he declared. "The labor unions particularly should free themselves from Communist leadership, realizing that Communists are loyal in the first instance to Russia rather than to their own countries, and that in the case of war they will form centres of treason and sabotage."

MISSING ROWBOAT

A 12-foot rowboat owned by John Head, 1239 Sunnyside Avenue, was recovered by the owner during the week-end, city police reported. The engine missing when recovered, was found in some bushes at the foot of Styles Street. Police were informed by John A. McNab, 720 Esquimalt Road, that he had found a 14-foot boat on the beach facing his property. It is unpainted inside, painted white and red outside.

Missing Hunter Finds His Way Out Of Woods

Caught by darkness while on the trail of a deer in the Thetis Lake area Saturday night, hunter Alick W. Nohr, 280 Pallister Avenue, View Royal, succeeded in finding his way out the next morning. He found a night spent in the open at this time of year a cold experience, but did not suffer otherwise.

Provincial Police led a search party to the area. Searchers fired shots, got answering replies and lit a huge fire for the hunter to use as a guide to get out. Mr. Nohr, however, did not see the fire and started making his way out at first light the next morning, emerging near the Yewtree Farm, Millstream Road.

The other footloose Briton, Arthur Geldard, hopes to join his wife and daughter in Sydney within six months. He plans to walk all the way, except where steamship travel is absolutely necessary.

SMART, MODERN DELIVERY SERVICE TO EVERY SECTION OF GREATER VICTORIA

AN INSTITUTION DEDICATED TO THE DIS- PENSING OF PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS AND ASSOCIATED SUPPLIES

Such was the definite unequivocal designation we adopted when we opened our first small establishment at 629½ Fort Street on the 9th of November, 1930. In only five years increased business forced us into our corner location at 629 Fort Street, and after 13 busy years there we now present Victoria with what we believe is Canada's finest pharmacy at 627 Fort Street, in the Pemberton Building.

In the same building at 1012 Broad Street, we have opened also, a complete Surgical Supply Store to round out our comprehensive service.

Only a few months ago we also opened a completely modern Prescription Store at 1201 Douglas Street, corner of View, in the Scollard Building, so that now we have fully stocked and fully manned institutions adhering to the above idea and ideal in both of Victoria's leading Medical and Dental Buildings.

T.L.C. Convention Backs Bengough, Executive During First Round Of Fight On Hall Issue

The fate of Frank Hall and his 12,000-member Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, will probably be decided by the Trades and Labor Congress convention today.

The question came before the convention Monday afternoon but decision was delayed.

The convention today will probably decide whether or not the suspension of the Railway Clerks' Union, imposed Sept. 11 by the T.L.C. executive, will be cancelled, continued or made an expulsion. Before this is decided the delegates may decide whether or not to permit Mr. Hall and his delegates to be seated at the convention, thus affording them an opportunity to put their case to the delegates.

An effort aimed at having Mr. Hall and his delegates seated failed Monday afternoon.

Percy Bengough, president of the congress and chairman of the convention, won support for a resolution put by him on behalf of the executive that the question come up for discussion during the consideration of officers' reports.

This resolution was declared by Mr. Bengough to have been endorsed in a standing vote, called following a verbal vote which was vociferous by both parties. George A. Wilkinson, secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, asked that the vote be put again because some delegates "didn't know what the vote was all about." Mr. Bengough refused to do this.

GIVEN PRIORITY

The chairman assured that the question would be given priority over other business, thus suggesting that it would come up today.

Before Mr. Bengough moved his resolution, Archie Johnston, Canadian vice-president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees, Toronto, moved that the committee on credentials bring in a report on delegates refused seats in the convention. Mr. Bengough put his motion before Mr. Johnston's despite efforts of some delegates apparently to question the validity of this.

Mr. Johnston's resolution would have given an opportunity to the convention to discuss the seating of Mr. Hall and his delegates.

Thus the T.L.C. executive won the first round of the battle.

The 12,000-member Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks was suspended following the merger, effected by Mr. Hall, of the "Canadian Lake Seamen's Union and the Seafarer's International of North America. It was suspended because it is a rival of the Canadian Seamen's Union, chartered by the T.L.C.

On this coast the two unions have functioned side by side for some time. The S.I.U. sends delegates to both the Victoria and Vancouver trades and labor councils, which are T.L.C. chartered.

The rivalry between the two unions among workers on the Great Lakes and the east coast, however, is much greater than here, particularly since the strike this year of the C.S.U.

HALL THERE

Mr. Hall was present at the hall when the convention opened Monday morning.

Mr. Johnston agreed that the action of the executive in suspending the Railway Clerks' Union was quite proper but he added that the suspension, constitutionally, could only continue until the convention opened.

"We have no right and we do not wish to remove the rights of those delegates," he said, referring to the delegation from the Railway Clerks' Union.

Demanding the "iron curtain" be lifted, he said that the Railway Clerks' Union should be accorded its full rights as a delegation.

When that has been done the convention will have an opportunity to hear the defence to the allegation, he continued. If the union is guilty of malpractice "let us all discipline it."

Some observers believe that the congress will permit the Railway Clerks' Union to be seated, thus permitting a full-dress debate on the question.

There is considerable talk that if the suspension of the Railway Clerks' Union is continued, Mr. Hall will lead that union and other international groups in the setting up of a new congress. There is no confirmation of this.

Another possibility is that the C.S.U. might be ousted by the delegates because of Communist elements in it.

Mr. Bengough's opening address, however, indicated that this was not likely.

"This is not a question of Communism, which is another issue," he said of the C.S.U. problem.

"The question is: Does this congress agree that workers should be free to organize and insist on the protection of that right?"

Political views of any members of a union were not legal grounds for refusal of a company to negotiate with that union, he said. Great Lakes battle between the C.S.U. and certain shipping companies has developed from the companies' refusal to negotiate with that union would be certified that Communism.

Mr. Bengough recalled that during the past year some manufacturers had sought legislation to provide that "no labor union would be certified that had Communist officers."

"What percentage of the officers or membership would have to be declared Communist to prevent the union from obtaining certification and who is to decide as to just who is what, are $64 questions," he said. Not only would this present an impossible situation but would be a direct invitation to the replacement of free trade unions by company-controlled unions.

"Your executive has consistently opposed the introduction into Canada of any of the features of the Taft-Hartley law as in operation in the United States."

Mr. Bengough recalled that the executive had been publicly accused of being sympathetic to the philosophies of communism.

UNTRUE AND STUPID

"Such accusations are definitely untrue and stupid and could just as well be directed to every democratically elected government in Canada," he said.

Without mentioning Mr. Hall by name, Mr. Bengough warned of the dangers of his actions.

"Vested interests and pressure groups, whether rights or lefts," he said, "should not be encouraged in this Trades and Labor Congress, particularly so if they have any ambitions of transferring control of this congress to the trade union centre of any other country and away from the membership that comprises it."

Mr. Bengough's address was frequently punctuated by rousing applause and whistling, sometimes lasting 30 seconds or more. The single standing vote indicated that he had the support of a substantial majority of the delegates.

Before Mr. Bengough declared the convention formally opened, Percy Rayment, president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, Mayor Percy George and Attorney-General-Labor Minister Gordon S. Wismer had welcomed the delegates to Victoria.

Welfare Council To Study Three Urgent Needs

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Welfare Council has appointed committees to study three "of the most urgent welfare considerations of the day," Miss Bessie Touzel, secretary of the council, announced today.

The committees will study the needs of old people, unemployment relief in any future depression and training of personnel for public welfare work. They will report their findings to the newly-organized public welfare division of the council at a meeting in Winnipeg Dec. 8-10.

"The three questions under study have been selected . . . as the most urgent public welfare considerations of the day," Miss Touzel said in a statement.

"Welfare workers all across the country report the difficulties of our older population with inadequate pensions, few work opportunities and bad housing conditions," she continued.

"According to reports from the National Health Department, 42.5 per cent of Canada's population over the age of 70 is dependent on old age pensions. Yet current pensions are known to be quite inadequate in these days of shortages and climbing prices and many old people are subsisting on a next-to-starvation level."

Miss Touzel said that during the 1930s unemployment relief was ruinous for municipal welfare departments. Current prevailing opinion was that in another emergency it would have to be financed through major contributions from the Dominion government.

"At the moment, no plan is ready for sharing relief costs and present provisions are a tangle of confused policies, low standards and limiting residence regulations," she said.

Victorians Attend Seattle Wedding

Glendale Lutheran Church, Seattle, was the setting for the marriage Saturday evening of Miss Thyra Louise Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Truesdell Kent, Seattle, and George W. Wiggins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wiggins, of Seattle.

The bride, well-known in Victoria, is the granddaughter of Herbert Kent, 228 Douglas Street, and niece of Col. and Mrs. M. Aubrey Kent, also of this city, who all attended the ceremony conducted by Rev. Robert V. Rieke.

For the occasion, the bride wore a hand-made gown of silk mull and Skinner satin worn by her late great-great-aunt, Mrs. Milne of Victoria. The fragile beauty of 50-year-old lace, worn by her mother and grandmother, enhanced her bridal veil and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses and orchids.

Misses Jean Louise Mitchell, honor maid, and Zola Daverin, bridesmaid, wore rayon taffeta gowns in autumn brown and water green, respectively, similar to the bride's gown. They carried muffs of matching material trimmed with chrysanthemums. Little Peggy Jean Larson, aged four, wore an old-fashioned gown in white, for her role as flower girl, and five-year-old Kenneth Wiggins was ring-bearer.

The groom was supported by Eugene Wiggins, as groomsman. Ushers were W. Herbert Kent, James Wiggins and Clifford E. Plouff.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins are spending several days of their honeymoon in Victoria and will make their home at Seahurst, Wash. The bride traveled in a forest green moire dress with matching accessories, and three-quarter length topcoat in grey.

Bride, Gene Etheridge, Carries Original Anthurium Bouquet

The specially designed "heart-shaped" bouquet of rose and pink-toned anthuriums, and white feathered carnations, carried by Miss Gene Alexandria Etheridge when she became the bride of Roy Sherman Smith, set the color note for her street-length model frock in dusky pink crepe.

For the Saturday evening ceremony conducted by Rev. D. L. Gordon, Church of Our Lord was decorated with bright autumn blossoms.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Etheridge, 1341 Bond Street, was given in marriage by her father.

A perfect contrast to her dark hair, was the crown of stiffened lace, and fingertip veil, which matched her gown, styled with lace peplum, high neckline and cape sleeves. A pendant, belonging to her grandmother, was her "something old."

With a taupe grey afternoon dress, honor maid Miss Ruth Smith, cousin of the groom, wore shell pink accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums. Stanley Evans attended the groom and Arthur Erickson and Ed Bigar ushered guests to their seats.

Mrs. Etheridge and Mrs. M. Smith, aunt of the groom, received guests with the bride and groom, at a reception at Cherry Bank Hotel. R. Peachery gave the toast to the bride. Multi-colored chrysanthemums decorated the room, and vases of roses were placed on the table with the four-tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are motor-ing through United States en route to Regina where they will visit Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Smith, before returning to the city to make their home.

C. MacDonald Claims Nurse As Bride

Marriage vows were exchanged by Hilda Cecelia Kuefler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Kuefler, Galahad, Alta, and Colin MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. MacDonald, 2810 Shakespeare Street, Oct. 4, at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

For the morning ceremony performed by Father D. LeHane, the bride, a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, class of '47, wore a pale blue dressmaker suit, styled with double-breasted jacket, and flared skirt. She carried a white prayer book and pearl rosary, and wore a corsage bouquet of pink Rapture roses and pink heather. Her only jewelry was a double strand pearl necklace with matching earrings.

Miss Barbara Arac, classmate of the bride, attended her as bridesmaid. With her dressmaker suit in chocolate brown she wore pale blue accessories and corsage bouquet of Tallman roses. Mrs. M. Smith, honor matron, chose a dark brown tailored suit, smart with matching accessories and corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

Herbert Nix stood with the groom as best man.

"Ave Maria" was sung by Miss M. Popowich, accompanied by Miss M. MacKay at the organ, while the newlyweds signed the register.

A reception for immediate relatives and close friends followed at the home of the groom's parents. A three-tier wedding cake was placed on the lace-covered table, decorated with autumn flowers.

Following their honeymoon in Seattle, for which the bride donned a burgundy gabardine topcoat over her suit, Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will make their home at 1610 Hollywood Crescent.

Institute Meets—Members of Esquimalt Women's Institute met in the guild room of St. Paul's Church. It was decided to hold a fall tea, Oct. 21, in the hall, and a card game during the evening. It was reported that two boxes of groceries were sent to Great Britain.

Tea arrangements were convened by Mrs. W. H. Dinsmore and Mrs. R. B. Elliott, while Mrs. E. M. Haynes was in charge of door receipts.

Elaine Impey Now Mrs. Arnold Holt

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns heard the marriage vows of Miss Elaine Grace Impey, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. L. C. Impey, 1748 Davie Street, and Arnold George Holt, H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holt, Westlock, Alta., Saturday evening at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay.

Autumn-toned blossoms formed the setting for the bride in her gabardine suit of cherry red. Her accessories were in black to match her small felt hat, trimmed with feathers, and she wore her groom's gift, a pearl necklace. Feathered white carnations formed her corsage bouquet.

She chose Mrs. D. G. Campbell as her honor matron. Mrs. Campbell wore pink carnations in corsage with her suit of powder blue.

Standing as best man for the groom was B. J. Murch. Mrs. Impey and Miss E. Holt of Vernon, aunt of the groom, assisted the newlyweds to receive their guests, at the Connaught Seaman's Institute, following the ceremony.

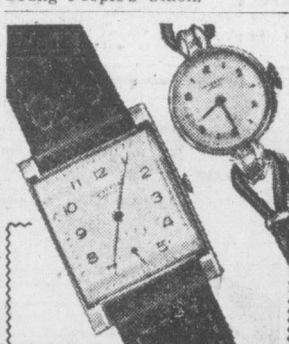

Capt. Frank Baylis proposed the toast to the bride's future happiness. White candles in silver holders graced the bride's table, where the three-tiered wedding cake was centred.

Following their honeymoon in Vancouver and points up-island, Mr. and Mrs. Holt will make their home in Victoria.

Saturday Wedding Principals

Phillip Arthur Le Patourel and his bride from "Down Under," the former Jane Margaret James.—(Photo by Joncas)

Ss. Aorangi on her first trip since the war, carried Miss Jane Margaret James, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred James, from her home in Sydney, Australia, to Victoria to become the bride of Phillip Arthur Le Patourel, son of Capt. and Mrs. C. F. Le Patourel, England. The afternoon ceremony took place Saturday at St. John's Church. W. D. Cameron, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was fashioned with fitted bodice and peplum of lace over a full tulle skirt. A fingertip veil of tulle, worn by the bride's three sisters, was held by a frilled lace halo cap, trimmed with clusters of orange blossoms at each side. She carried white roses, carnations and sprigs of white heather. Cousins of the bride, Mrs.

Betty Davies of Victoria and Miss Joy James of Vancouver, were her attendants. Mrs. Davies wore silver lame Juliet cap and matching mitts with her pink brocade silk gown, and Miss James was gowned in pale blue taffeta with matching cap and mitts. Both carried posies of scarlet roses.

Capt. Derrick Adams of Vancouver was best man. Jim Davies ushered guests to their seats.

Following the ceremony, performed by Rev. George Biddle, a reception was held at Cherry Bank Hotel. Aunts of the bride, Mrs. W. D. Cameron and Mrs. J. F. Drummond, received guests with the bridal pair, and Mr. Cameron gave the toast.

The couple are staying at Kiltara Lodge, Sprat Lake, and will return to Victoria and Vancouver, before leaving at the end of October for Montreal.

For travelling up-island, the bride wore a Harris tweed turquoise suit, with accessories in black, and small black velvet hat.

Autumn Tea—Plans have been completed by Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, for their autumn tea to be held October 18, at 2:30 in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company. During the afternoon a door prize will be presented. Donations will be devoted to charitable purposes.

Engagements

Announcements to appear under this heading will be accepted at the Times Advertising Department. Minimum charge $1.50 for 10 lines and 10c for each additional line.

Capt. and Mrs. H. Crichton Saunders, 2833 Dewdney Avenue, announce the engagement of their son, Major Donald M. C. Saunders, R.C.E., to Jean Margaret, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Hamilton of Kitchener, Ont., where the wedding will take place on Oct. 23, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

P.T.A. News

Doncaster Heights—A magic show will be produced by E. Crookford at the Doncaster Heights P.T.A. meeting Wednesday at 8 in the school. Saanich Health Officer, Dr. E. McKay, will address members. Final arrangements will be made for the country fair to be held Nov. 3 under convenship of Mrs. A. Slocumb and Mrs. D. Miller.

Langford—Monthly meeting of Langford P.T.A. will be held on Wednesday in the school at 7:45. A film will be shown on the recent floods in the province, and a talk given on the blood transfusion clinic. A social hour is planned.

Annual Party—Annual church service and party of St. Mary's Little Helpers was held October 6. Following the church service conducted by Archdeacon A. de L. Nunns with Mrs. E. J. Harris as organist, entertainment was provided for guests in the parish hall, under direction of the women's auxiliary with Mrs. R. C. Pattinson, president, and Mrs. E. D. McKechnie, vice-president, in attendance. Refreshments were conveyed by Mrs. W. A. Noon and Mrs. C. H. Booth, assisted by Mesdames E. L. Auvel, G. S. Libby and W. Fish. Assisting Mrs. G. E. Morris, secretary of the Little Helpers, were Mesdames H. A. Collison, B. T. Perry, E. Dyer, G. F. Salmon, W. H. Mitchell, J. Corfield, G. S. Robertson, M. Shepherd and F. McKenzie.

Canada's Pacific Coast Warships On Pearl Harbor Training Cruise

Destroyer Athabaskan, in foreground, and cruiser Ontario cut through a flashing sea to get into formation with the other three warships of the five-ship group which sailed Monday for Pearl Harbor. Aerial photo was taken by Times Photographer Bill Halkett from a Westinghouse Airways Ltd. plane piloted by Lawrence Westinghouse.

Five ships of the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific coast active fleet are now steaming across the Pacific to Pearl Harbor in one of the most extensive training cruises ever undertaken from this coast.

The cruiser Ontario, destroyers Cayuga, Crescent and Athabaskan, and the frigate Antigonish, left their naval base at Esquimalt Monday morning.

Leading the group was H.M.C.S. Ontario, senior ship of the base. Aboard her was Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C., R.C.N., who commands the squadron Cmdr. Owen C. S. Robertson, G.M., R.D., R.C.N., aboard Cayuga, commands the second destroyer division.

Emily Carr Paintings In October Exhibit

Included among the 51 exhibits of the October exhibition at the Art Gallery and Studio, 1121 1/2 Douglas Street, are three paintings by Emily Carr.

"Guisdoms" compels interest by the clever handling of neutralized color interwoven with touches of brilliance so cleverly concealed as to pass unnoticed without study yet at the same time adding an intrigue that is usually missing in neutralized palettes. The clarity of the centre of interest, which is a portion of a totem pole, contrasted against the smoky blues, greys, greens and browns of the Indian village background, too, holds one's attention.

The gallery also has an oil painting which was hung in the 1947 Royal Canadian Academy, "Bombed Church, Chelsea," by C. Law.

Other paintings are "Bucking Broncos" and Indian Portraits by I. Eldridge; "Black Bear" by Mrs. Barbara Woodward, "Tasco," by D. Adams, "Grand Canyon," by Mrs. McEwen and "St. Barnabas Church," by J. Jones.

It is hoped that high school students will see this exhibition as there are some exceptional paintings which should be of particular value for students.

Open War On Muskrats For B.C. Dike Areas

The provincial government has declared open warfare on muskrats in areas where farm lands are protected by dikes.

Previously muskrats could be trapped only in all B.C. including dike areas.

An amendment to the game regulations permits the killing of muskrats within dike areas by any means.

During the special flood session of the provincial legislature it was pointed out that muskrats were a factor in weakening the dikes. Officials promised to look into the matter.

sion which make up four ships of the five-ship squadron.

After a short manoeuvre off the Victoria coast line, the ships went into formation and sailed for the Juan de Fuca Strait and the Pacific Ocean.

Aboard the ships were hundreds of seamen, some old hands, others new, but all with keen anticipation of the lengthy training cruise which calls for a heavy schedule of exercises and training drills which will include night actions, gunnery and torpedo exercises, anti-submarine operations and refueling at sea.

The ships are expected to return to their base here early next month.

"I wish we were chuting into a bowl of that delicious new cereal!"

1 That glorious malty-rich, nut-sweet Grape-Nuts flavor stirred up a tidal wave of enthusiasm when it first appeared on breakfast tables back in the Nineties.

2 That fifty-year-old popularity goes double today, for Canadian families are enjoying its goodness in two tempting cereals—delightfully "chewy" Post's Grape-Nuts and curly, honey-golden POST'S GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES.

3 Cast your peepers over the good nourishment wheat and malted barley give to Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes: carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; other food essentials.

4 Say "gimme" to your grocer next time you see his shelf-full of Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes. And don't limit your enjoyment of them to breakfast—for grand recipes for cookies and other good things made with Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes are on both regular and large economy size packages.

B.C. Pair Ambushed, Beaten In Ontario

SCHOMBERG, Ont. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Vancouver were ambushed and beaten on the highway near here Sunday by three men swinging lead pipes.

After driving from the fairgrounds of this York County town, the Williams were stopped by an automobile which had passed them and then turned broadside, to block the road. Schomberg is 35 miles northwest of Toronto.

Williams said three men smashed the windows of his car and began beating him and his wife with lead pipes. Mrs. Williams was cut about her face and arms. Her husband suffered bruises and cuts. The couple's five-year-old son, Lawrence, was not hurt.

Police said the Vancouver couple were victims of a "grudge fight." They said three villagers claimed to have been "rooked by fortune-telling concessionaries at the fair might have mistaken the Williams for them.

Year-Round Shooting Of Deer On Graham Is.

Residents of Graham Island, the northern island of the Queen Charlotte Group, won't have to worry much about high meat prices.

Deer brought to the island some years ago have become very plentiful and now the provincial government has amended the game regulations to permit year-round shooting of deer of both sexes over one year of age.

Only bona fide residents of the island will be able to shoot them throughout the year. Deer meat may be removed from the island only during the regular deer hunting season—Sept. 11 to Nov. 30.

The government's action is designed to reduce the big number of deer on the island.

MODERN RAIL POSTAL UNIT—Deputy Postmaster-General Walter J. Turnbull and director of communications, George Herring, inspect one of the 52 mail bag racks in the first of 10 new rail and express railway cars delivered to the Canadian National Railways. Canadian in design and construction, the new units are also equipped with 360 letter cases, 26 newspaper boxes and a "Kendal" table for use during heavy mail periods. Shown, left to right, are Mr. Turnbull, J. T. Whiteford, manager, passenger service bureau, Canadian National Railways; Mr. Herring and G. E. McCoy, assistant chief of car-equipment, Canadian National Railways.

Berlin Crisis Blamed On Desire Of Russia To Smash Recovery

LONDON (CP)—Britain Monday blames the breakdown in the Berlin crisis talks on a desire by Russia to undermine the recovery of western Europe.

"The Soviet government has no intention of reaching agreement (over Berlin) save on its own terms," said a 40,000-word white paper issued by the Foreign Office.

The white paper was similar to the United States statement of Sept. 27 listing the futile negotiations in Moscow and Berlin step by step. But it went further in its charge that Russia oppresses Germans in its occupation zone and seeks a share in control of the mineral-rich Ruhr to "sabotage" recovery in the west.

"In the light of the Soviet attitude toward the European Recovery Program," the document said: "It became clear that the Soviet claim to participate in control of the Ruhr was in fact a claim to be allowed to sabotage recovery."

The Soviet blockade of Berlin was described as a "carefully prepared attempt to compel the western occupying powers to abandon under duress their rights in Berlin." The white paper said it became clear after seven weeks of talks in Moscow and Berlin that Soviet terms, including a demand for control of the Anglo-American air-lift into the German city, were not an "acceptable basis of negotiation." Acceptance of the Soviet terms, the paper added, would have resulted in "whittling away of rights and obligations of western occupying powers to a point where the whole city of Berlin was under exclusive Soviet domination."

It also said "Soviet authorities in Berlin have tolerated attempts by minority groups sympathetic to their aims to overthrow the legal municipal government of the city."

SOVIET OPPRESSION

In charging Soviet oppression, the paper said:

"Thousands of people, including children, have been arbitrarily arrested and confined to concentration camps within the Soviet zone or deported to the Soviet Union. Skilled workers also have been forcibly removed to the Soviet Union."

Then it charged: "The culmination of the Soviet attitude of obstruction and intransigence has been the blockade of Berlin."

"This has not only endangered

Newfoundland's Railways Struck

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The whole economy of Newfoundland was thrown out of kilter Monday when 2,500 railway workers struck for pay increases.

Rail is the only mode of transportation spanning the island.

The Railway Labor Co-operative Board, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, is demanding a wage increase of 15 cents an hour. The board and the government could reach no settlement of the dispute after a long period of negotiations.

At a last-ditch meeting Saturday the government offered a 7-cent-an-hour increase or a $14-a-month boost to monthly paid workers, with a cost-of-living bonus absorbed into the basic rates.

Quebec Mines Minister Dies Following Attack

MONTREAL (CP)—Hon. Jonathan Robinson, 53, Minister of Mines in the Quebec government, died Monday after being rushed here by plane from a hunting resort in northern Pontiac County.

Mr. Robinson was first elected to the provincial legislature when Premier Duplessis' party won the 1936 election. He was appointed to the provincial cabinet in 1944 and was re-elected at the July 24 general election this year.

The minister suffered a hemorrhage at the Lac des Loups resort, 250 miles northwest of here Monday morning. A radio call intercepted a Wheeler Airlines plane bound with a group of U.S. sportsmen from James Bay and the plane put down at Lac des Loups. The hunters relinquished their seats in favor of Mr. Robinson and a doctor.

Three hours after he was stricken the minister was in hospital here.

Mr. Robinson's death leaves standing in the provincial legislature: Union Nationale 81, Liberals 8, Nationalist 1, Independent 1; total 92.

LOTS OF RAIN, BUT SO WHAT—Vern Matters, Cowichan Bay, sought a little more comfort than most of the open-boat sport fishermen who participated in the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club's coho derby during rain-soaked Sunday at the up-island bay by erecting a canvas shelter over the 14-foot craft. "It helps to keep parts of us dry, anyway," the ardent angler said with a grin.

200 Attend First View Royal Fair

The first View Royal Fair, staged by the View Royal Community Association, which hopes to make the event an annual one, drew more than 200 people Saturday.

H. B. Stevens, president, told the gathering he hoped the fair would form a nucleus of a garden club in View Royal that could eventually exhibit its gardens in Victoria's spring garden week. Craigflower Women's Institute, directed by Mrs. C. W. Newbury, assisted in putting on the fair.

Fruits, vegetables, home cooking, preserving, artwork, handicraft and woodcraft were all displayed, with Rev. A. E. Greenhalgh, chaplain, accepting the fruits and vegetables for use in

Alberni Church 50th Anniversary

ALBERNI—Closely identified with the history of Alberni district, All Saints' Anglican Church will mark its 50th anniversary with special services Sunday, Oct. 31, with Rev. Glen Stevenson, vicar, officiating.

A comparatively ancient edifice in relation to the time the Alberni settlement has been in existence, it was largely through the efforts of H. Gullod, who traveled here over the historic Horne Lake Trail, that a movement was started to build the pioneer Anglican church.

In charge of construction and doing most of the carpentry work himself, was the late George Forrest, while Robert Ballard, an Englishman living in the new town of Port Alberni, built the pews. George Bird, one of the district's early sawmill men, supplied the lumber.

Opening service was held on September 3, 1898, with Rev. Swithin Asquith the first vicar.

CORDOVA BAY—A Halloween dance in aid of the sports equipment fund will be staged Oct. 28 by Cordova Bay Community Club, members decided at a meeting in MacMorran's Pavilion.

A card party will be held Oct. 20 at McMorran's. Badminton club has opened play at St. David's Church hall. It was reported the outboard motor regatta sponsored by the club on Labor Day, netted $89.

3 Contracts Awarded For Mainland Roads

The provincial works department has awarded contracts for two mainland road building projects and the construction of foundations for four mainland bridges.

To Campbell-Bennett Ltd. went the contract to build 6.7 miles of the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway at Ingram Bridge. It will cost $186,588.42.

To the Upper Fraser Valley Construction Co. Ltd. went an $80,594 contract for construction of one mile of the Trans-Canada highway which will by-pass Abotsford.

Foundation of four bridges on the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway will be built by Highway Construction Co. Ltd. for $75,608. The bridges are over Moyle River, Yakh Slough, and Kid and Little Kid Creeks. Contract for fabricating the steel for the Moyle River bridge had previously been awarded to the Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd. for $39,000.

Cowichan Bay Looked Like Boom Town On Derby Day

Cowichan Bay village had the appearance of a boom town over the week-end as hundreds of anglers from near and far converged on the fall fishing grounds to take part in the first postwar coho derby of the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club.

Drenching rain and poor showing of fish took the joy out of the big day for the angling faithful, but the competition from other aspects was a marked success, especially financially. Many of the fishermen stayed over to fish on Thanksgiving Day when better weather was offered.

No. 1 heavyweight fish of the meet was a silver button winner taken by Jim Tang, sports editor of the Colonist. He took it on a blue-white Frumento fly and it went 14.4 pounds on the scales. Fish weighed in were on the scarce side. Besides winning the main Anchor Cafe Trophy, Tang also won a 14-foot boat.

WINS PUPPY

Tacoma's R. T. Early weighed in a 13.9-pounder to win the $100 Brittany spaniel puppy donated by Wes Higbie. There were a number of posh American yachts on hand to take part in the derby, in which the prizes were valued at $1,000.

The most envied winner of all was T. A. Coulson, Cowichan Bay. He won the $350 refrigerator, first consolation prize. Other prizes in this bracket were won by G. Stevenson and Mrs. E. Dille of Seattle.

George (Joker) Patton, whose cruiser Aileen was the host boat of the day, presented the prizes to the winners at the derby close at 4. Lee Hallberg, club vice-president, Harry Woolston, derby chairman, and George Mann were the three most prominent workers of the day at the Government Wharf weigh-in station. Art Worth weighed in the catches.

Other fishing prize-winners were: 3. H. Gent, Victoria (12.3 pounds), rod and reel; 4. K. Malt, house, Seattle (11.13 pounds), rod and reel; 5. Mrs. W. Silburn, Victoria (11.11 pounds), chest of silverware; 6. R. G. Earley (11 pounds), rod and reel; 7. R. J. Acheson, Seattle (10.14 pounds), tackle box with lures; 8. H. S.

Orchard, Victoria (10.13 pounds), Indian sweater; 9. Mrs. G. Merick, Victoria (10.5 pounds), reel; 10. E. Silburn, Victoria (10.3 pounds), pottery vase; 11. C. Uttke, Victoria (10.1 pounds), reel; 12. Fred Smith, Victoria (10 pounds), reel; 13. R. Chadwick, Duncan (9.15 pounds), pocket stove; 14. C. M. Holsinger, Yakima (9.14 pounds), landing net.

Tips On Golf Rules

By ROBERT FOULIS
Tip No. 25
LINE OF PUTT MUST NOT BE WALKED ON

Question: A player's caddy, on removing the flagstick walks across the line of player's putt.

Answer: The player loses the hole. Penalty of two strokes in Stroke Play.

N.B.—The line of the putt may be touched to pick up or brush aside loose impediments, but the clubhead must not be pressed down. See Rule 28.

We often wonder how far these old feather balls could be driven. I would not like a pro to drive my featherie as it would probably burst, but it is known that a golfer in the old days drove one right over the Tron Kirk in the High St., Edinburgh, and that was a hefty wallop. The solid guttie ball probably went much farther against a wind. As regards the distance a ball can be driven we have definite information. The following is taken from an article in "Golfing" in 1941:

"Prior to the New Orleans Open, Craig Wood gave a novel demonstration to show the difference in distance between seven golf balls, dating from 1888 to 1941. The results showed there is approximately 40 per cent. more distance in the 1941 ball than the ball of 1888."

Woodburn Favorite For Cesarewitch Handicap

NEWMARKET, Suffolk, Eng. (CP)—Between 30 and 35 starters, the biggest field since 1939, will line up tomorrow for this year's renewal of the Cesarewitch Handicap, the first half of the "autumn double."

Of the 40 final acceptors, the four topweights are all French-bred. Monsieur l'Admiral carrying 128 pounds, now is seven years old and on recent runnings seems past his best. Cappielluca, also 128 pounds, to be ridden by champion jockey Gordon Richards, would prefer the going softer than it currently is and in addition recently suffered a leg ailment.

Sangkok, 120, can be given no hope on his recent form. Pipa Second, 122, won the classy two-mile event at the Ascot September meeting but may just fail to stay the 18 furlongs of the Cesarewitch course.

A strong favorite meantime, is Woodburn, to be ridden by Australian-born Edgar Britt. The odds on Woodburn shortened to 9 to 1 at the Monday night Victoria Club call-over in London. Woodburn carries 110 pounds.

A second favorite at 19 to 2, carrying 118 pounds, is Now Or Never and the third choice, who has tumbled from 50 to 1 in recent betting, is J. V. Rank's Gallant Scot now at 100 to 1.

Meantime Dorothy Paget's Explorer and Capt. P. G. A. Harvey's Speciality, were co-favorites at 100 to 1 for the Cambridgeshire, the second half of the autumn double, to be run Oct. 27.

First Curve-Ball Hurler Dies At 93

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George McConnell, believed to be one of the first pitchers to throw a curve ball, is dead at 93.

A baseball and billiard fan in his youth, later an Indian fighter and war veteran, he succumbed Sunday at the Sawtelle Veterans' Hospital after breaking his hip in a fall two months ago. He had been living with a niece in Los Angeles.

McConnell as a young man in Yreka, Calif., decided that the "English" put on a billiard ball could be applied to a baseball.

He tried it, and perfected it through hours of throwing against a barn wall.

Then he organized a team at Ashburn, Ore. His puzzling pitches kept the club undefeated for several seasons. Baseball honored him with a McConnell Day about 12 years ago at New York's Polo Grounds.

Ted Tor Wins Port Alberni Fish Derby

PORT ALBERNI—Ted Tor took top honors in the Port Alberni Tyee Club derby here Sunday as he weighed in a 40-pound 12-ounce specimen.

At a wind-up banquet of the club, Pitt Clayton, chairman, was awarded the Sun Trophy for the largest catch of the season—a 52-pound fish.

Fifty-one derby entrants caught 1,480 pounds of salmon before 3 Sunday afternoon.

Musicals—Mrs. H. O. Englis thanked Mrs. Stanley Moore, who was assisted by Mrs. T. H. Cyr, Moretti Take Six-Day Bike Race

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Rene Cyr of Montreal and Cesare Moretti of Italy won Buffalo's 12th international six-day bike race last night.

The winners wheeled 2,187 miles in the 147-hour grind to finish a lap ahead of Walt Diggelman of Switzerland and Henri Surbats of Greece. About 5,000 persons watched the finish in Memorial Auditorium.

The French team of Francis Grauss and Andre Pousse won third place on the basis of sprint points.

Only six team of an original 15 completed the race. Ted Smith of Buffalo and Cecil Yates of Chicago withdrew Monday afternoon after Smith took a spill. He was not injured. Earlier Torchy Peden of Victoria and Jules Audy, formerly of Montreal, retired.

Rangers Trade Jim Henry For Kaleta, Francis

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Rangers Monday sent goaltender Jim, (Sugar) Henry to Chicago Black Hawks in a straight National Hockey League trade for versatile wingman Alex Kaleta and goaltender Emile (The Cat) Francis.

The Rangers' count on the 28-year-old Kaleta, who can play right or left wing, to help plug the gaps left through the temporary loss of four stars injured in an automobile accident.

Francis, 22-year-old North Battleford, Sask., product, will be sent to New Haven Ramblers, the Rangers' American League farm club. He played the full season for Chicago last year after coming up from Moose Jaw Canucks.

The 27-year-old Winnipeg-born Henry was reported to have broken out in a wide grin when he heard the news of the trade at the Rangers' Saranac Lake, N.Y., training camp.

He filled the Ranger nets last season when Claude (Chuck) Rayner was sidelined by injuries. But Rayner beat him out for the regular berth this season.

The trade will break up the Rayner-Henry goaltending partnership but they will continue to operate jointly a summer resort site at Kenora, Ont.

Henry left New York by air last night for Chicago.

It was speculated that the loss for at least six weeks of high-scoring Buddy O'Connor and defenceman Frank Eldolls, and of to both kidneys and liver! Close To 2,000 See Turner Win Hillclimb

John Turner won the Victoria Motorcycle Club's annual hill climb at Mount Douglas Park, Monday, when he rode his bucking, roaring, metal steed up a steep 250-foot incline after a 20-foot run from a standing start in 7.5 seconds.

The meet, a class C contest, in which riders are limited to using model machines and only those parts that are actually manufactured for the machine they are using, attracted about 20 motorcycling daredevils.

Close to 2,000 spectators were on hand to see Turner take the 80 cubic-inch open event. Second was Newton Cameron, followed by Reg Shanks.

Cameron won the Paul Girard Trophy for annual competition by club members by scaling the course in 7.5 seconds.

In the same event, Reg Shanks was second and Allie Hyde third. Posting a record time of 7.4 seconds for a complete run over the course, Reg Shanks won the novice 45 cubic-inch class. John Turner was second and Les Blow third.

Joe Hyde and his son, Allie, came one-two in the novice 80 cubic-inch class. Bud McFadden was third. Winning time was 7.5 seconds.

UPLANDS GOLF

Mrs. W. Erickson captured the "A" division honors in the October medal round at Uplands Golf Club, carding a gross 96. Her 13 handicap gave Mrs. Erickson a net 83. Mrs. J. Strang was the "B" division winner with a score of 110-33-77.

Oak Bay Ratepayers Seek To Make Willows Sport Centre

A movement is afoot in Oak Bay to turn the Willows grounds into a recreational area for the municipality if the property is bought from W. S. Randall, president of Ascot Jockey Club, it was learned from Geoff. I. Edgelow today.

The plan includes the building of a sports centre, an aviary or museum, a swimming pool and children's playground, and the continuance of the Victoria Riding Academy and Hunt Club, Mr. Edgelow said.

Ratepayers began drafting a rough plan for the proposed recreational centre when it was reported that Oak Bay Council was contemplating buying the property for $125,000. Those in favor of the plan include a large body of ratepayers and members of the riding school.

The plan calls for the complete demolition of all wooden buildings and stables on the 67-acre property. New stables, constructed of concrete and cement, would be erected on the grounds.

The grandstand would also be demolished and a sport centre erected in its place. The building could be used for basketball and other indoor sports during the winter months.

SUB-DIVISION OPPOSITION

According to Mr. Edgelow a large body of ratepayers opposed the sub-division of the property for building purposes chiefly on the grounds that it would cost ratepayers approximately $750,000 to drain, survey, construct roads and sub-divide the land. This would mean taxes would increase to about 4 mills.

"Besides it is the most valuable piece of property in the municipality," he said. "Once it is gone it is not replaceable."

Ratepayers feel the recreational area would also be an attraction to the tourists if a museum or aviary was developed on the property. The property would also be an ideal playground for children.

PLEADS GUILTY

Charles Constable, 1003 McCaskill Street, pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of assaulting Harold Porter on Oct. 2. He was remanded until Thursday for sentence.

W. P. Marchant, Prominent Mason, Barrister, Dies

William Percy Marchant, 69, well-known barrister, Rotarian and prominent member of the Masonic order, died Monday afternoon at his home, 1417 Pembroke Street.

Born in Bristol, England in 1879, Mr. Marchant came to the city in 1890 and resided here until his death.

Entering the Provincial Civil Service, he was for a number of years, Deputy Registrar of the Supreme and Country Courts of Victoria. Called to the bar in 1918, he entered partnership with David S. Tait, forming the law firm of Tait and Marchant.

Like his father before him, who was mayor of Victoria in 1922, he always took a keen interest in public affairs. He was school trustee in 1938 and 1939 and for several years was a member of the City Zoning Board. A Rotarian for more than a quarter of a century, he served as director and vice-president of the Victoria Rotary Club on several occasions.

Mr. Marchant attended Emmanuel Baptist Church and was an active worker, since its inauguration.

HELD MASONIC OFFICE

He became a member of Vancouver and Quadra Lodge A.F. & A.M. in 1909 and Worshipful Master in 1917. Always maintaining a keen interest in Masonic matters he served as treasurer of his mother lodge and as director of the Masonic Temple Association for many years. In 1925 he became District Deputy Grand Master of Victoria and in 1942 was elected Grand Master of A.F. & A.M. of British Columbia. He was a charter member of Mt. Newton Lodge, Saanichton. He was a member of Columbia

Central Baptist Plans Extension

Plans for the construction of a two-story extension to the Central Baptist Church, 833 Pandora Avenue, were made known today by Rev. J. B. Rowell, church pastor.

The extension will be 60 feet wide and will add 40 feet to the length of the present building. It will connect with the main auditorium at what is now the rear of the church.

The addition will be used by the church's Sunday School and Young Peoples' Group.

Mr. Rowell said a contract for the job would be let shortly and that he hoped an early start would be made.

Celebrated 98th Birthday Sunday

John F. Turner, who celebrated his 98th birthday Sunday, was presented with a copy of Psalms in large type at the Central Baptist Church. Mr. Turner recalls the Crimean War as a boy in England.

A French polisher and cabinet-maker by trade, Mr. Turner has had to give up working with his hands due to his failing eyesight. He attributed his long life to avoidance to excess in all things and keeping his hands and mind busy.

Authors' Club To Meet Friday

Victoria and Islands branch of the Canadian Authors' Association will meet Friday at 8 in the Doris Bagshawe Studio, 534 Broughton Street.

Dr. Willard Ireland, Provincial Archivist and Librarian, will be guest speaker. His subject will be "Delving for Data."

The poetry group will meet at the home of Mrs. Sheila McIvor, 691 St. Patrick Street, at 8, Oct. 21.

Home Robbed

A thief who broke into the home of F. A. Anderson, 2937 Prior Street, during the weekend, escaped with articles valued at about $50. When Mr. Anderson returned after a short absence from home he found missing one fur coat, a gold ring, a silver identification bracelet, a sports shirt and two pairs of trousers, city police said.

Chapter Royal Arch Masons, serving as First Principal in 1926. He was appointed Grand Superintendent of Island District No. 1 in 1930 and elected Grand First Principal of Royal Arch Masons of British Columbia in 1939.

Mr. Marchant was also a member of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite 18th Degree and was an extensive reader of Masonic literature and is the author of several Masonic books.

Mr. Marchant was predeceased by his wife in May, 1946. He is survived by one son, Bertram Charles; a daughter, Mrs. Bernard C. Gillie; one granddaughter, Gwendolyn B. Gillie, all of this city, and one sister, Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin of Seattle.

Funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2.30 from Emmanuel Baptist Church. The body will be taken from McCall Bros' Floral Funeral Chapel at 1 o'clock.

Masonic service at 2.30 will be conducted by Rev. W. L. McKay. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Lower Mainland Areas Barred To Shooting

Blue grouse and pheasant shooting in areas of the lower mainland which suffered heavily in the floods has been prohibited, it was learned here today from the game office. The areas affected are Sumas, Matsqui and parts of Abbotsford and Mission.

Indian Girl Is Problem Of Court

Agnes Jack, an Indian girl and a familiar figure in city police court, has become a problem to Magistrate H. C. Hall and C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor.

Up this morning on the usual charge of being intoxicated, her appearance drew the comment from Mr. Harrison that "she has been here too often and I am not going to ask any clemency this time."

The magistrate remanded her till Wednesday for sentence.

"Everything else we've done does not seem to have done much good."

Oak Bay Firemen May Get Increases

Pay increases up to $6 a month are recommended for Oak Bay firemen by a private commission which has been studying salary scales of members of the Oak Bay Municipal Employees' Association.

The commission was appointed to relieve any inequalities which may exist in wage schedules, but its findings are not binding.

Report of the commission was made several weeks ago but to date the Oak Bay Council has taken no action.

Commission was headed by J. Howard Harman. E. F. Dunn was the municipality's representative and Charles Peck was appointed by the employees.

Holiday Week-end Boosts Flagging Tourist Travel

Victoria and Vancouver Island's slackening tourist travel got a big boost over the Thanksgiving Day week-end, as thousands of holidaymakers took to traveling.

While much of the travel was made by holiday-seekers, a good proportion came from convention members returning home from Victoria meetings.

All transportation companies reported very good business and many said they were booked to capacity.

C.P.R. officials said travel was just as good as a year ago. Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd., who ran extra buses on their regular schedules, reported up-island travel better than last year.

Black Ball Line officials reported a good week-end, especially on Sunday when the Chinook had a capacity load.

Trans-Canada Air Lines officials said 32 return trips were flown in and out of Victoria over the week-end with all booked to capacity. Very little trouble was experienced by the air line because of the weather.

Town Planning Commission will meet at the City Hall Friday night at 7.30.

Without the aid of a dog, Robert Hambrook, formerly of the prairies and now employed at the Luney Bros. brickyard here, killed a large cougar during the weekend in the Sooke area. He made the kill with a shot at 300 yards. The bounty is $20 for each cougar killed.

H. L. Smith To Give Readings On 'Hamlet'

Sir Laurence Olivier's interpretation of "Hamlet," which will be shown on the screen here next month, has aroused much interest among Victorians and as a community service Harry L. Smith, principal of Victoria High School, has arranged to give a reading of Shakespeare's immortal play twice each week for the next month.

Mr. Smith, who is an outstanding English teacher and student of Shakespeare, will give the readings every Tuesday and Thursday evening at 7.30, in Room 36, Victoria High School. They will continue for the next four weeks.

Hoodlums Smash 40 School Windows

City police believe young hoodlums are responsible for the wreckage done to the east windows of the main building of Central Junior High School last night. Forty of them were smashed in the rock-throwing spree, police said.

Francis B. Greaves, who is well known in Victoria where he attended Collegiate School, and who fell a victim to polio a month ago is now convalescing at Corona Naval Hospital, Corona, California.

Travel Business Becomes Intricate For Local Agent

One would think that booking "non-existent" people for trips to the United Kingdom was a useless type of activity for a travel agent, but Eric Marshall, of George Pauling Ltd., has been doing just that all week, and with a good purpose.

The first time it happened, Mr. Marshall was surprised. But by the time the third application for passage had been made under the same circumstances, he realized he had been taking part in the establishment of a record of some sort.

The "non-existent" passengers will probably be very audibly existing by the time the passage is made, for they are all un-born children.

Because of the difficulty of booking passage for the United Kingdom, plans have to be made well ahead of time, as Mr. Marshall is finding out.

In all three cases, the prospective mothers are war brides who want to make a visit back to their homeland. In one case, the passenger who still does not exist should be a ripe six months old by the time he, or she, makes the trip.

The only thing that is bothering Mr. Marshall is how to fill out the form which asks "Male or Female." Right now, his guess is as good as anyone's.

Free Poppies For School Students

Poppies will be distributed free of charge this year to all Greater Victoria elementary and high school students, Col. M. D. Robertson, chairman of the Remembrance Day Committee, has announced.

Permission to distribute the poppies in the schools was granted by the School Board and J. F. K. English, senior school inspector in this area.

Poppy Day this year will be Nov. 6. Remembrance Day will be Nov. 11.

Contracts Awarded For Building New Koksilah-Ladysmith Highway

The provincial works department today announced that contracts had been awarded for the construction of a new Island Highway route between Koksilah and Ladysmith.

The contracts went to the two lowest tenderers. The tenders were received Monday and there were four bids for each section. General Construction Co. Ltd., builder of the head and Ladore Falls dams for the B.C. Power Commission's John Hart Development at Campbell River and the Parksville-Cathedral Grove section of the Alberni Road, will construct the southern part of the Koksilah-Ladysmith road. The contract is for $502,156.80.

Campbell - Bennett Ltd. will build the northern 9.8 miles of the 17.1-mile project. The contract price is $622,762.40. The projects will get under way this fall with clearing and will be completed about next September or October if everything goes right. Two big steel bridges, over the Cowichan and Koksilah Rivers, will be constructed under contracts to be awarded later. The new highway route will enter Duncan to the east of the

E. & N. railway, skirt Somenos Lake on the west, follow Bell-McKinnon Road slightly to the west, cut through the Westholme Valley and then continue northward to the west of the present highway and the E. & N. railway.

The seven level-railway crossings on the present highway will be eliminated, an overhead crossing being planned at the single intersection of the new highway and the E. & N. railway.

An overhead crossing of the present highway at Westholme is also planned.

The new route will be 2.4 miles shorter than the present highway between Koksilah and Ladysmith. The grade will be considerably improved, the steepest grade on the new highway being 5 per cent near a crossing of the Koksilah River.

Other than the bridges over the Cowichan and Koksilah Rivers, the majority of the other crossings of creeks and rivers will be culverts.

A half-mile connection road between the new highway and Chemainus will also be constructed.

Construction of the new highway will interfere very little with up-island traffic because the new route has been chosen instead of rebuilding the present highway.

Driving toward the completion of the modernization of the Island Highway from Langford to Courtenay, the Provincial Works Department is planning to call tenders shortly for reconstruction of a five-mile section between Cooke Creek and Bowser, and is preparing plans for reconstruction of a short section at Mill Bay which will involve a new crossing of Millstream.

Lecture Series On Astronomy Planned

Opening meeting of the 1948-1949 winter lecture series of the Victoria Centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, will be held at 8 p.m., Oct. 20, in the auditorium of Victoria College.

The speaker at the opening meeting will be Dr. R. M. Petrie, assistant director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, who will deal with "Some Problems of Stellar Motions."

Meeting will be held monthly. Dates, speakers and their subjects, are as follows:

Oct. 20—Dr. R. M. Petrie, "Stellar Motions"; Nov. 10—R. S. Evans, "The Ancient Astronomers"; Dec. 8—Dr. J. A. Pearce, "The International Astronomical Union"; Jan. 12—Dr. K. O. Wright, "Giant and Dwarf Stars"; Feb. 9—G. L. Darimont, "Visual Optics"; March 9—Dr. F. H. Sanders, "Sound Waves and the Ocean," and April 13—Mrs. Edith Chesman, "Ancient and Modern Philosophy and Astronomy."

Members of the public interested in the topics are cordially invited to attend.

Beer Vote Fixed For Ucluelet

The provincial government has ordered a plebiscite for Ucluelet electors on whether or not they wish to have a beer parlor built there.

The voting day has been fixed for Nov. 13, with Mrs. Norah L. Thompson as returning officer.

Legion To Arrange Armistice Ceremonies

The Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion will handle all arrangements for that municipality's Armistice Day ceremonies, it was announced today.

The Esquimalt Council had requested the veterans' organization to handle the matter.

J. E. Carey will head a committee of four for the Legion. Others are W. Barker, F. D. Hickman and R. Brophy.

Mr. Carey has asked that any organizations wishing to participate in the ceremonies get in touch with him at B2301.

Hard Surfacing Completed
On 200 Miles Of B.C. Roads

Hard surfaces have been put on 200 miles of old and new highways in British Columbia during the current season, the provincial works department reported today.

The following resume shows how the work has progressed to Oct. 1. Since then work has been completed to make the total 200 miles.

Island Highway—41 of 46 scheduled miles completed. A portion of the Alberni Road in Cathedral Grove will not be surfaced until next year, and five miles of surfacing between Parksville and Qualicum was only temporary coating to be made heavier later.

Southern Trans-Provincial Highway—63 of 96 scheduled miles completed.

Lougheed Highway—22 of 24 scheduled miles completed.

Trans-Canada Highway—15 scheduled miles completed.

Kamloops-Vernon Highway—Six scheduled miles completed.

Okanagan Highway—Seven scheduled miles completed.

Nelson-Nelway Highway—18 of 19 miles scheduled completed.

Hope-Princeton Highway—Six of 15 scheduled miles completed.

The paving program was the largest ever undertaken by the provincial works department. The program could not be carried out as planned because of the poor summer weather.

Officials reported, however, that had the old methods of laying pavement not been replaced by use of machines, only 10 per cent. would have been done this year because of the poor weather.

ODEON THEATRE

One of the "stars" of Cine-guild's screen version of "Oliver Twist," now being shown at the Odeon Theatre, has been signed on for life. He is "Relyon Jake the Rake," a Staffordshire bull terrier, and he plays Bill Sikes's traditional, terrifying "lurcher."

Discovered by Mr. Charles Cruft, grandson of the celebrated dog show sponsor, he had to be made up for the part. Scars and scratches were applied with the aid of greasepaint and his coat was rubbed up with a mixture of flour and water to make him look convincingly fierce.

When his role was over Jake the Rake was adopted by Cine-guild director Stanley Haynes who has renamed him "Sikes" in memory of his screen master.

RIO THEATRE

One of "Bat" Masterson's most spectacular efforts in the cause of law and order is seen in RKO Radio's exciting saga of the Kansas plains, "Trail Street" now at the Rio Theatre. Randolph Scott has the role of the famous U.S. marshal and co-starring are Robert Ryan, Anne Jeffreys and George "Gabby" Hayes.

ATLAS THEATRE

Film fans at last have a chance to see Broadway's dancing sensation, Joan McCracken, who plays a featured role in the new M-G-M Technicolor musical jam-boree, "Good News," now on the Atlas screen with June Allyson and Peter Lawford co-starring.

Young Miss McCracken, hailed as the theatre's top dancing comedienne, first won fame as a member of the Agnes De Mille ballet in "Oklahoma," followed with another smash success in "Bloomer Girl" and reached stardom in "Billion Dollar Baby." In "Good News" Miss McCracken sings what promises to be a new Hit Parade candidate, "Pass That Peace Pipe."

'Nature Boy' Papa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Nature Boy" is a papa now.

Mrs. Eden Ahbez, wife of the nature-loving songwriter, gave birth to a six-pound, four-ounce son Saturday at St. Vincent's Hospital.

NO SHIRT SHORTAGE

Sees Own Silhouette
In Circular Rainbow

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z. (CP)

The rare phenomenon, the Spectre of the Brocken, has been seen again in New Zealand from the summit of Mount Bernard, overlooking Akaroa Harbor near here.

W. R. Curry, a visitor, reached the mountain peak in a driving mist. From time to time, the sun, nearly setting, broke through and on at least six occasions in half an hour Curry saw his own silhouette ringed in a beautiful circular rainbow over the bay. When he moved an arm toward it, a long misty arm extended back to him from the mirrored figure in the centre of the circle of color.

"I have traveled around the world and seen some strange sights, but this phenomenon was something completely different," Curry said. "It was a weird and wonderful vision—fascinating and unforgettable."

Named after Mount Brocken in Germany, where it was first recorded in 1780, the Spectre of the Brocken is seen only in high mountain regions when the light, atmosphere and sun all fulfill conditions which are rarely found at the same time.

Now, Britain's famous economy cars and trucks, known and sold all over the world, have come to Canada—and they're just what many have been waiting for. Trim and "imported" in styling, the Anglia and Prefect cars and Thames trucks are made with typical English craftsmanship and the traditional Ford dependability.

Built especially for export, these products have all the high-performance and low-upkeep advantages which make them so sought after in post-war Britain, plus special features for Canada. Left-hand drive, standard gear shift—and on the passenger models, chrome trim, bumper guards and many other refinements Canadians look for in their cars.

You'll find many advantages in the Anglia, the Prefect, the Thames ¼-ton and ½-ton trucks. You'll be amazed at how easily they handle in heavy traffic—so easy to park, too! For full information on these remarkably economical cars and trucks, see your Ford and Monarch or Mercury-Lincoln-Meteor Dealer.

Clean-cut, sturdy—designed and built to save you time and expense. The Thames ¼-ton and ½-ton trucks are ideal for low-cost, "stop-and-go" deliveries. Just the thing to help you give quick, reliable service.

YORK THEATRE

Lovely, red-headed Arleen Whelan resumes her screen career, after a long absence, in Paramount's new comedy, "Suddenly It's Spring," currently showing at the York Theatre with Fred MacMurray and Paulette Goddard in starring roles.

Miss Whelan left Hollywood in 1942 after an unhappy beginning in films due to her lack of acting experience. Soon after, she went into the New York stage hit, "Doughgirls," in which she scored a personal triumph during the play's run of over a year.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Just six years ago Richard Beavers was a messenger boy on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot. Today he has a featured spot in Irving Berlin's "Easter Parade" and has been awarded a long-term M-G-M contract! When he attended his first Hollywood party, he sang some of the "Oklahoma!" score. Among the guests was Roger Edens, an associate of Arthur Freed. Result was that Beavers was signed to sing Irving Berlin's "The Girl on the Magazine Cover" in the elaborate Technicolor musical starring Judy Garland, Fred Astaire, Ann Miller and Peter Lawford on the Capitol screen.

be seen as "Benny" and Iris Whitney who will be Azuri. Edward Roecker, baritone, will play and sing the role of The Red Shadow and Gale Sherwood will sing Margot.

ROYAL THEATRE

With her appearance in "Apartment for Peggy," pretty Jeanne Crain bids fair to becoming the screen's Technicolor queen. The Twentieth Century-Fox picture which is currently at the Royal Theatre is Jeanne's sixth color picture in her total of nine-films. "Apartment for Peggy," in which she is co-starred with William Holden and Edmund Gwenn is Jeanne's second film since her temporary retirement from the screen a year and a half ago for the birth of her son. In her current picture she is seen as the wife of a veteran who is going to college under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Veterans Favor Higher Pay For Pacific Forces

A resolution requesting the federal government to pass legislation granting all veterans special pay who served in the Pacific and tropical countries, was endorsed by the national convention of the Army, Navy Air Force Association here.

The resolution submitted by Jack McKinley of Quebec City, referred to Canadian forces who served in Hongkong and were prisoners of war for four years. "These men were imprisoned longer, and suffered greater hardships than any other Canadian troops in World War II," the resolution read. "With a few exceptions there was not opportunity for personnel to receive promotions after 1941. Lt.-Col. C. A. Young, of Quebec City, who supported the resolution, pointed out that nearly all the men who were Japanese prisoners of war suffered today from sickness due to malnutrition and brutality.

Leaves Royal Roads For Diplomatic Post

J. Langlois, former instructor lieutenant commander, and, more recently, assistant professor at the Canadian Services College,

H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, has left Victoria for Ottawa where he will enter the Department of External Affairs in the first step toward becoming a career diplomat.

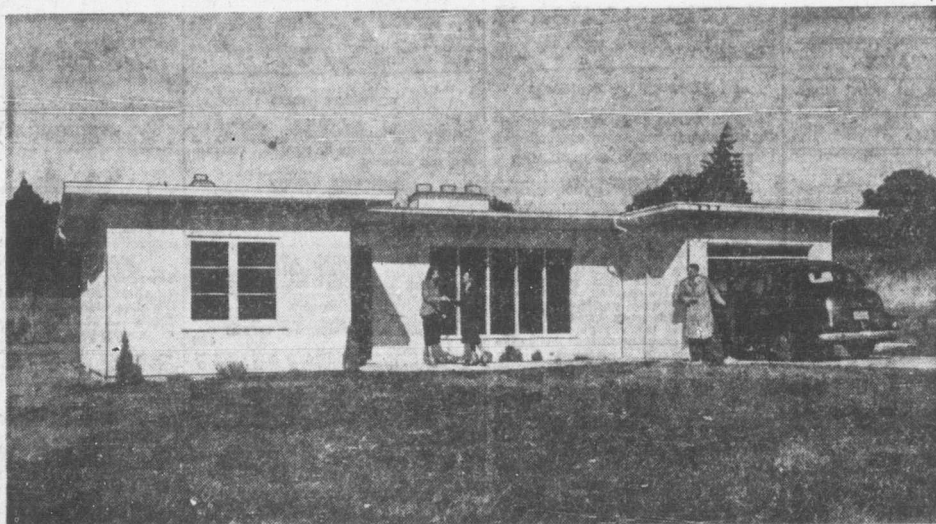

Mr. Langlois first came to Royal Roads in the fall of 1944 as an instructor lieutenant. In July 1945, he was promoted to instructor commander. He continued his lectures at Royal Roads until the cessation of hostilities, and then undertook a year's special naval duty, which expired Aug. 1, after which he became a member of the Dominion civil service, holding the civilian rank of assistant professor.

Before leaving Victoria, Mr. Langlois resigned his office as president of the Victoria branch of the United Nations society.
